WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Six persons from New Jersey were injured Wednesday in the collision of a pickup truck and two cars on Route 115 in nearby Bear Creek Township.

Admitted to the Wilkes-Barre General Hospital in serious condition were James Williamson, 45, of South Plainfield, N. J.; his wife, Emma, 46, and a son, James Jr., 16. Another son, Gerald, 10, was discharged after treatment.

Mrs. Elizabeth Richards, of East Orange, N. J., was admitted to the hospital in serious condition. Her husband, William, 61, was discharged after treatment.

Algiers Catches Rebel Colonel

ALGER, Algeria (AP)—The Algerian government reported Wednesday night it had captured dissident ex-Col. Mohamed Chahani, who fled into the Aures Mountains a week ago with several hundred guerrilla followers.

Chahani fled south after the political bureau of the ruling National Liberation Front had expelled him from the bureau and from the party's Central Committee on the ground he had been conducting subversive activity.

Lutherans Fail On Race Issue

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Lutheran Church in America failed to adopt a statement on race relations at an extended session Wednesday night because of a controversy over what constitutes civil disobedience.

The 70 delegates and laymen to the second biennial convention named a four-member committee to redraft the section and report it to the floor Thursday, the last day of the convention.

Bible Reading Petition Removed

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — One of the two Delaware couples who petitioned against Bible reading in Delaware public schools has withdrawn its case from U. S. District Court.

The plaintiffs, Mr. and Mrs. Gary DeYoung, have taken up residence in Minnesota, and in their behalf Atty. Irving Morris asked the court to dismiss their complaints.

Mrs. DeYoung was dismissed from a teaching job in Middletown, Del., and the couple left the state in June.

Their case challenged the right of Atty. General David P. Buckson to permit Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer in Delaware public schools after the U. S. Supreme Court ruling affecting similar practices in other states.

Tshombe Lists New Ministers

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP)—Moise Tshombe of Katanga named Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu a list of ministers Wednesday for a "government of national reconciliation" to bring peace to the Congo's warring factions.

Tshombe said members of outgoing Prime Minister Cyrille Adoula's government had tried to sabotage his efforts right up to the last minute. He spent the entire day in feverish consultation with politicians of all the main political groups.

Athena Missile Is Successful

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP)—The much-maligned and oft-troubled Athena missile finally made its first successful overland flight Wednesday after two previous failures.

The four-stage, solid-fuel rocket, scavenged from existing missile systems, roared into the desert sky over Green River, Utah, at 3:23 p. m. (MST) for the estimated 15-minute, 475-mile trip to White Sands.

Market Inches To New High

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market inched up to still another new high Wednesday in a cliffhanger performance.

Barry To Use Bobby Baker Case Against Johnson In November

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bobby Baker was described Wednesday as an opportunist who seized every opportunity to get rich scheming and then tried to hide wrongful use of his power as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

But this conclusion by the Democratic majority of the Senate Rules Committee didn't go far enough for the Republican members. Baker was a protégé of President Johnson in his climb from Senate page boy.

Plans To Trumpet Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the likely Republican presidential nominee, already has signaled plans to trumpet the Baker case during the campaign against Johnson.

Last weekend, Goldwater said "the dark shadow of scandal that hangs over even the White House itself" is one of the main campaign issues.

The dissenting report filed by the Republicans charged the majority document was a "cover-up" to protect higher-ups who might have been involved in a more thorough investigation had been carried out.

They said: "The full story has not been disclosed concerning Bobby Baker and those associated with him, including present and former senators and Senate employees."

The Democrats specifically mentioned refusal of the Democrats to summon White House aide Walter Jenkins to testify about an insurance deal reportedly involving Baker and Johnson.

The minority report did not disagree with the conclusion of the majority that the evidence had revealed "gross wrongdoing, gross improprieties and conduct which we believe to be unlawful."

But the Republicans protested that they had been frustrated and beaten down in their efforts to call additional witnesses and "complete the investigation."

Two Injured As Explosion Rips Rights Workers Home

McCOMB, Miss. (AP)—Three rapid-fire explosions Wednesday ripped a wall from a house in which 10 civil rights workers slept. Two were hurt.

The pre-dawn blasts, "like gunshots, only much louder," apparently came from homemade bombs hurled from the street.

Police in this southwest Mississippi city and FBI agents cordoned off the civil rights "freedom house," waiting for arrival from Washington of an FBI expert on explosives.

"We are making a full investigation," FBI spokesman said.

The damaged room is a converted garage with a wide window where a door formerly was. Curtis Hayes, 21, McComb, a Negro, was asleep near the window when the explosions occurred 18 inches from the wall.

"My bed had been kicked about four feet from its original position and just disintegrated. I was lying on the floor in glass from the window. The drapes were on top of me. The whole front wall had been blown out."

Hayes showed newsmen small cuts from his head to his feet. He said they were made by flying glass.

Hayes' roommates were George Green, 21, a Negro and —like Hayes—a Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee staff worker, and Dennis Sweeney, 21, a Stanford University student from Portland, Ore.

Volunteer Worker Sweeney is one of 500 college students who have volunteered for civil rights work in Mississippi during the summer. A physician said he suffered a mild brain concussion and shoulder lacerations.

They added: "No committee is in a position to make recommendations as to how to solve a problem so long as there is concealment and coverup of evidence."

The Democratic majority, headed by the committee chairman, Everett B. Jordan of North Carolina, denied any intention to protect anyone from disclosure of wrongdoing.

The Democrats said the only effect of calling the witnesses demanded by the Republicans would have been to produce "purely repetitious and cumulative" testimony and might have been described as "exposure for exposure's sake, rather than serving a useful legislative purpose."

The committee asked the Senate last week to give it authority to recommend punishment—from reprimands to expulsion—from office—for misconduct by senators or Senate employees.

In other recommendations resulting from the Baker investigation, the committee also sought to retain the right to investigate any charges of illegal, improper or unethical conduct by Senate personnel.

Baker, from Pickens, S. C., resigned his $19,600-a-year job last Oct. 7 after a suit against him raised questions of how he had gained a fortune of over $2 million on his Senate salary.

Baker's aides said he was out of town and they did not know where he could be reached.

Scranton In California Predicts He Will Win

15 State Votes Go To Barry

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Barry Goldwater forces in Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton's home state said Wednesday at least 15 of the state's 64 delegates to the Republican National Convention will vote for the Arizona senator's nomination for president on the first ballot.

The prediction was made by Bennett S. Chapple, Jr., chairman of the Western Pennsylvania Citizens for Goldwater, and John G. Pew Jr., Philadelphia chairman of the Committee of 100,000 Pennsylvanians for Goldwater.

Chapple and Pew also predicted at a news conference that the groundswell for Goldwater will be so great that the nucleus of 15 delegates will carry the whole delegation into the senator's column when the first ballot roll call reaches Pennsylvania.

"I daily predict that when Pennsylvania's name is called on the first roll call, the will of the Republican Party will be so heavily in evidence that Pennsylvania will cast its total vote for Sen. Goldwater," Chapple said.

Until Gov. Scranton announced his candidacy a month ago, 61 members of the state delegation were pledged to him as a favorite son. Three delegates at that time were declared Goldwater supporters.

One of the avowed Goldwater delegates changed his mind after Scranton actively started seeking the nomination and said he will support Scranton.

Pew and Chapple said, however, that since the governor stepped out of his favorite son role there have been a number of defections to the Goldwater camp.

Basic Council Okays Monroe School Plan

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state Council of Basic Education approved 13 more county school district reorganization plans Wednesday.

Mrs. Albert M. Greenfield, chairman of the council, said the action would have the net result of reducing 397 school districts now operating 67 administrative units to 62 school districts, and the same number of administrative units.

The four-district plan submitted by the Monroe County School Board was among those approved. The county plan received automatic approval from the Basic Council.

The plan will now go to the State Council of Education, where four appeals will be decided. Appealing the plan in favor of a single county unit are school boards from East Stroudsburg Borough and Ross and Porter Townships.

Eldred Township has appealed its inclusion in the plan. Eldred wants to join the Palmerton school district.

DA's Criticize State Penal Code

RUSHKILL, Pa. (AP)—Richard H. Kehl, administrative assistant to New York Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan, criticized Wednesday the proposed new penal code for Pennsylvania as "bleeding hearts, do-gooders and liberals."

Kehl attacked the code, compiled by 71 members of the American Law Institute, for emphasizing correctional over protective measures.

"The code," he told the convention of Pennsylvania District Attorneys, "should be primarily protective if we want to protect the public."

He said that the 71 experts who drew up the code included only two defense attorneys and no district attorneys. The result, he said, is a code reflecting the philosophies of academic liberals.

Henry Cabot Lodge

Lodge Steps Up Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—With a warning to Republicans never to embrace "a trigger-happy foreign policy," Henry Cabot Lodge kept the stop-Goldwater barrage rolling before the GOP Platform Committee on Wednesday.

Without mentioning Sen. Barry Goldwater by name, the former ambassador to South Viet Nam took an obvious swipe at the front-running Arizona senator's remarks a "no-win policy" on foreign and military policy.

Lodge resigned his Asian post to help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton's late-starting attempt to wrest from Goldwater the party's presidential nomination.

Thant Wants Geneva Talks On Viet Nam

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary-General U. Thant advocates a new Geneva conference aimed at ending the fighting in South Viet Nam. He said the United Nations could police any agreement it might produce.

He told reporters Wednesday his heart bled for the Americans and Vietnamese dying in the war, in which South Vietnamese troops with U. S. help are fighting Communist rebels alleged to have North Vietnamese support.

He declared "military methods will not bring about peace in South Viet Nam." He called for "a political and diplomatic method of negotiating."

Thant made the statements at a news conference in advance of his departure next Tuesday on a two-week trip to Europe, Africa and Asia.

He will talk in Moscow with who has criticized the U. S. role in Viet Nam. He will also meet Soviet Premier Khrushchev, in South Viet Nam, and in Paris with President Charles de Gaulle, who has called for the neutralization of all Southeast Asia.

Attacks Goldwater For No-Win Policy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton flew to the Republican National Convention scene Wednesday and promptly predicted he will be the party's presidential nominee and lead it to victory in November.

But the hard political facts of life were that the front-runner by far remained Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona. Goldwater is coming to town Thursday to take personal command of his troops.

Scranton arrived here at a time when much of the fight over candidates and civil rights was waning—even before the convention begins on Monday.

Still, this was sort of Scranton's day, even though the sun was dipping down toward the Golden Gate by the time he reached San Francisco. He took advantage of it to strike sharply at Goldwater and speak with continued confidence of his own chances.

Goldwater, he said, "announced a full work ahead of the nomination that he expects to be defeated in the fall." This was an allusion to a Goldwater statement in a German magazine, Scranton termed the senator's remarks a "no-win policy" I heartily deplore."

Goldwater was quoted as saying that as of now no one can defeat President Johnson in the November election but that the picture will change.

Speaking out at the airport through a bull horn to some 2,000 Scranton fans and then at a news conference, Scranton got a big cheer when he told his supporters he wants the GOP "to have a chance in November as well as a choice in July."

"I am here too," he said, "so I can fill the bill, Scranton will."

The Scranton committee showed a touch of city sentiment with a couple of old cable cars with Scranton pictures filling the windows and the sides covered with signs saying "Americans Want Scranton."

Scranton gave his greeters a beaming grin and a hands over head salute. His wife, Mary, pulled roses from a bouquet and tossed them into the throng.

Afterward, the two of them set out in a motorcade for their downtown headquarters and various receptions.

Harold E. Stassen All this appeared to disturb not at all the Goldwater advance guard lodged in the same hotel. Nor was it worrying much about Harold E. Stassen, once the boy wonder governor of Minnesota, who still thinks he sees a chance that the lightning of the presidential nomination might strike him.

Scranton and his backers are trying mightily to convince the people that Goldwater can't win against President Johnson in November.

Scranton's on-the-scene supporters once had hopes of generating a fight in the convention's platform committee over the new civil rights law which Goldwater voted against.

Even though much of the tingling excitement and suspense may be extracted from the convention before it starts, the usual trappings are going to give it something of the old-time flare and fervor.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev

Khrushchev Warns Viet Nam, Laos, Cuba Could Cause World War

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev on Wednesday accused the United States of "waging a murderous war of aggression" in South Viet Nam. He warned that local wars may "even touch off a world conflagration."

Grave Situation Khrushchev also said that a grave situation is developing in Laos, "where interference by aggressive imperialist powers may kindle a war fraught with dangerous consequences."

Once more he called U. S. reconnaissance flights over Communist Cuba an adventurous policy and added that serious consequences may lie ahead if the flights are not halted.

Twice he warned that the Soviet Union is prepared to use its arms to protect its friends and allies.

The premier spoke to graduates of the Soviet Military Academy. His speech was reported by the news agency Tass.

Red China At one point he seemed to answer Red Chinese charges that in following a peaceful coexistence policy, Khrushchev refuses to support revolutionary movements in developing countries.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union stands for peace because war "brings only calamities to the peoples."

"Of course," he said, "when I say that we are against war I mean against aggressive, predatory wars. But there are other wars, wars of national liberation, wars when oppressed people rise against their oppressors, colonialists and imperialists."

Former President Of IBW Dies

PETHAM MANOR, N. Y. — John B. Kingsley, former president of International Boiler Works in East Stroudsburg, died suddenly yesterday at his home at 50 Shore Road, Petham Manor.

Mr. Kingsley was a former resident of Stroudsburg and was affiliated with IBW for a number of years.

Funeral details will be announced later.

State News Roundup

Delaware River Drought Report

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Reports from various testing stations along the Delaware River indicate that conditions are remarkably good considering the two-month drought in the Valley. U. S. Geological Survey officials say.

The salt front has passed Chester, Pa., several miles north of here, but officials said that the salt content is less than one-half that of the same date last year.

The relatively good conditions along the river are attributed to the fact that the drought has not been severe in the upper reaches of the river in Northeastern Pennsylvania and Southern New York.

Storage in the Pepacton and Neversink reservoirs are at 80 per cent of capacity, far ahead of last year, and if conditions deteriorated could be released to increase the flow of the river.

Seranton Officer Is Found Guilty

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Capt. Alfred E. Svenson, U. S. Army officer who spent a year in East Germany, was found guilty Wednesday of desertion and theft of an Army jeep.

Svenson, 31, of Seranton, Pa., will be sentenced Thursday. The Lithuanian-born officer was expelled from East Germany last May as unfit to be granted asylum.

Rights Trials In Chester

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Chief U. S. District Court Judge Thomas J. Clary has stayed his order, issued Monday, that the trial of 230 civil rights demonstrators arrested in Chester must be held in the Delaware County Court. Anthony G. Amsterdam, attorney for the defendants Tuesday, appealed Judge Clary's order in the U. S. Court of Appeals. Judge Clary said that the law barring such appeals had been amended by the Civil Rights Act of 1961, and that such appeals were now permitted.

State Racing Revenue High

HARRISBURG (AP) — Harness racing yielded $200,959 in tax revenues last week, the state Revenue Department reported Tuesday. This brought to $2.4 million the amount of taxes collected from harness racing this year. The department said total tax collections to date were running about $170,000 ahead of last year.

PRR Installs New Cars

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Allen J. Greenough, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, announced Wednesday the PRR has placed in service the first group of 1962 new freight cars in a program designed to assure a more sufficient handling of industrial materials. The railroad placed 62 of the new cars in service in June.

Greenough said the cars are part of the railroad's $80 million capital expenditure program for 1964. The program includes plans for 6,212 new freight cars, 70 new diesel-electric locomotives, and the rehabilitation of 7,530 other cars.

Delaware Salt Count Is Down

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — U. S. Geological Survey officials say a salt front in the Delaware River has passed Chester, Pa., and that the salt content is less than half that of the same date a year ago.

Officials said Tuesday that reports from testing stations along the Delaware indicate conditions are good considering a two-month drought in the Delaware Valley area.

Instruments at the Delaware Memorial Bridge measured salt content in the water at 1,260 parts per million. Water is not considered fresh when the content is greater than 20 parts per million. Sea water has 19,000 parts per million.

Part Two Of Cancer Series

Tests Continue In Search Of Key

EDITOR'S NOTE — Through surgery, radiation and drugs, cancer victims are being given new hope for added life. The following, second of three articles, outlines some of the drugs now in use to combat cancer and what may come from the laboratories in the not too distant future.

By ALTON BLAKELEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The drug that can cure cancer is probably already known.

It is one among about a million known organic chemicals whose formulas have been worked out over the years.

Chemistry "cookbooks" tell how to make them again.

Millions of keys have been tried, but the situation is like having a million keys to a lock and, worse yet, no clear conception of what the lock looks like.

Laborious trial-and-error testing of thousands of chemicals against animal cancers has turned up a couple dozen drugs which do or may act against human cancers. They kill or poison cancer cells, but unhappily not without some similar effects upon healthy cells, or they have other drawbacks.

Now scientists are on the trail of new methods toward finding the effective key or keys. The luck, they believe, involves a "wayward gene" directing cells to follow an abnormal destiny.

A curative drug might act in any of several ways.

It might block the wayward gene from action, like a football guard taking out a would-be tackler.

Or it might unscramble the scrambled message carried in the DNA of the responsible gene. Genes are composed of DNA or deoxyribonucleic acid formed into long strands or strings.

Or a curative drug might interfere with RNA, another nucleic acid which acts as a messenger carrying the DNA code from the DNA molecule to "factories" in the cell in which all the proteins and enzymes and stuff of life of a cell are made.

It might act to put the "correct" message back into the cell machinery, in place of the "cancer message."

Or, as Dr. Aaron Bendich of Sloan-Kettering Institute remarks, the trouble in cancer might be that the "genes" or segments of DNA in a chromosome are rearranged. If DNA plays out its instructions in sequence, like a tape recorder, in cancer the tape recorder might be starting at the wrong point. A chemical agent might be found to put the messages back into the proper order.

Elaborate Mechanisms
As the elaborate mechanisms of cell behavior become clearer, then specific chemicals might be found, or tailored, to right the wrong steps taken in the cancer cell. It would well be a chemical first formulated many years ago, with its capability still unknown.

A few drugs winning some benefits against cancers are known to act in this fashion. An antibiotic, actinomycin D, apparently combines with a specific part of the DNA thus interfering with transcription of the genetic message, Dr. Bendich explains. But it probably acts against all DNA, not just that of cancer cells.

And a newer class of drugs, the hydroxyl amines, invades cells to chop the DNA strands just at certain places.

Dr. Bendich thinks they hit at punctuation points, the periods and commas separating the genes or bits of DNA in the whole strand making up a chromosome. Changes in the shape of the chromosome, caused by these drugs, can be seen under the microscope.

The separate messages carried by each gene are not lost. But the sequence is rearranged. This can be fatal to a cell, or might give it its cancer quality. Feedback controls that take part in sequential action of separate genes may be lost or upset.

If this is the mechanism, then a drug is needed that would straighten out the tape recorder sequence of the cancer cell.

In Laboratory
So goes, in the laboratory, part of the drama of human intellect against cancer.

It is waged also in the hospital and clinic, with growing optimism. Now through research and clinical knowledge, "cancer is becoming a manageable disease," says Chicago's Dr. Charles Huggins.

"Only in a few instances now should we say that cancer is a hopeless disease," says Dr. James T. Grace Jr., of Roswell Park in Buffalo. "There is always practically something that can be done to add to comfort. We can add life to a person's time, not just time to his life."

Poll Shows Barry A Sure Loser

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pollster E. John Bucci said Tuesday a survey he conducted for Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania concludes that Sen. Barry Goldwater would be "a sure loser" nationally in November against President Johnson.

Bucci, who has conducted polls for both the Democrats and Republicans in recent years, said his latest poll was ordered and paid for by Scranton and shows Goldwater "will not carry even one state against Johnson" except, possibly, his native Arizona.

It gives Goldwater only 30.7 per cent of the total projected vote across the nation.

Bucci said his staff interviewed a total of 1,200 persons in seven states—Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Wisconsin and Missouri.

"We have barometer areas which enables us to project all across the nation, through all the 50 states," he said.

Should Gov. George Wallace of Alabama run on a third party ticket, Bucci reported, Johnson would still carry at least 45 states, losing only Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and possibly Maryland.

Bucci said the poll was completed shortly after Goldwater won the California primary and was one of the factors that prompted Scranton to become an active presidential candidate.

State GOP Delegates For Scranton

HARRISBURG (AP) — Most members of the home state delegation of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, presidential aspirant, will be leaving by chartered plane Thursday for the Republican convention in San Francisco.

The chartered planes, carrying most of the 64 delegates, members of their families in some cases, news men and friends, will leave Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

A scattering of men and women among the 64 delegates and an equal number of alternates made their own private arrangements to travel to the convention city.

Lutheran Budget $58 Million

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Lutheran Church in America approved at its second biennial convention Wednesday a combined budget for 1965-66 of $58,863,500.

The budget, prepared by the church's Executive Council, provides for expenditures of $28,990,400 in 1965 and $29,873,100 in 1966. This compares with a total over-all annual budget of $29,004,453 for the current year.

The Executive Council described its proposal as "an attainable budget."

Increases, it said, "are kept purposely low so that congregations will have reasonable likelihood in the forthcoming biennium to reach 10 per cent of apportioned responsibility."

The budget provides for church grants to boards, commissions and agencies of $26,132,770 in 1965 and $26,995,900 in 1966. These represent increases of 1.4 per cent and 3.3 per cent respectively over this year's budget.

The apportionment, or amount contributed to the international headquarters by the church's 31 synods, is more than doubled from 1.3 per cent to 3.5 per cent.

Largest items in the budget are $9,215,000 in 1965 and $9,525,000 in 1966 for the Board of American Missions.

Eastburg Seeks County Aid To Finance Street Repair

EAST STROUDSBURG — Application for county aid to help finance street repair and storm sewer construction has been made to the Monroe County Commissioners by the East Stroudsburg Borough Council.

The council will use the money to improve N. Green St., S. Green St., from Anomink to the East Stroudsburg State College property line, Lackawanna Ave., from Anomink St. to E. Broad St., and storm sewer construction on the Vine St. relocation.

At meeting Tuesday night in the municipal building, council authorized Sterling Cramer, borough manager, to advertise for bids to complete the work.

Gage Appointed
Council also officially appointed Donald C. Gage of 36 Spangenberg Ave. as borough treasurer, office clerk and zoning officer. Gage, who has been working since July 1, is replacing Carl Smith, who resigned to enter private business.

Gage worked 18 years for with International Boiler Works Co. in East Stroudsburg, before taking his new position. He was assistant to the vice president in charge of sales at International.

"I am particularly interested in the zoning and planning duties that are involved as part of my job. The town is going to grow and this should help it grow in an orderly fashion," Gage said.

Two Complaints
Council also heard two residents complain that parking restrictions on Prospect St. are causing home owners inconvenience because they have no place to park their cars.

Paul J. Dellaria of 58 Prospect St. told the solons he has been unable to have guests at his home because there is no parking on either side of Prospect St.

Dellaria pointed out he has three cars and has no place to park them because his home is built on a hill and he cannot build a driveway. He said he parks his cars in an alley behind Prospect St. but only has access to the alley through a private driveway. He said another entrance to the alley from Anomink St. is inaccessible because of an ungraded section.

Dellaria asked council to consider grading the alley on the event the owner of the private driveway closes it to traffic.

James Hanscome of 7 Fairview St. said part of the parking problem in that section of the town could be alleviated if council permitted alternate parking on Fairview St. This would permit car owners from Prospect St. to park their cars.

During the debate, Councilman Pearly Hunt said, "If I had my way there would be no parking at all on any street in East Stroudsburg."

Council agreed to have the street committee meet with Edward Hess, borough engineer, Saturday at 9 a.m. to study the situation.

Other Action
In other action council:

—Gave Metropolitan Edison Co. the right of way to extend electric service to the new water filtration plant now under construction in Smithfield Township.

—Re-appointed Mrs. Ann Atwell to a five-year term on the borough planning commission.

Authorized the president and secretary to execute an agreement between Stephen and Margaret J. Kanyeh and the borough to pay front foot assessments for the extension of a water main south of E. Broad St.

Approved a request for a street light on Willow St. Granted East Stroudsburg Hardware Co. of 107 Crystal St., the right to rent three parking meter spaces in front of its store.

Tabled a request to accept Lions St., as a borough road. Action on the request was delayed until an ordinance is adopted spelling out what will be required before the borough accepts streets for maintenance.

—Heard a letter from Miss Adaline Moses of 125 Orchard St. complaining of neighbors burning trash near her home.

—Approved a motion to pay bills and ratify expenditures made during June.

School Change OK Given

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania Council of Basic Education yesterday approved school reorganization plans for Monroe County.

Number of school districts in the county will be reduced from 19 to 4.

Blood Drive At Depot Nets 499 Pints For Red Cross

TOBYHANNA — A two-day drive at the Tobyhanna Army Depot this week netted 499 pints of blood for the Red Cross. Forty-one additional volunteers were deferred for various reasons.

The collection increased donations by soldiers and civilians at the post to 9436 pints. The Bloodmobile began semi-annual visits to the depot in 1954.

During the drive seven more became eligible for membership in the Gallon Donor Club. This depot group now boasts 432 members.

James Gould, Monroe County Red Cross Chapter chairman, expressed his thanks to Clyde Burke, depot blood drive chairman. "Tobyhanna Army Depot donor," he said, "have once again demonstrated their wonderful community spirit. We are ever so grateful."

Scranton Fizzle

"When you are this far behind in a football game, you have to take a chance on a long pass."

A Scranton supporter, working feverishly to stop the nomination of Senator Barry Goldwater at the Republican national convention starting Monday, made that discouraged comment in San Francisco.

But Scranton supporters at Republican platform committee hearings this week were having difficulty springing their quarterback free to make any kind of pass.

When Quarterback Scranton did throw a few forward passes against the Goldwater army this week, they were short and out of bounds.

In a 14-point platform statement, he asked the platform committee to declare the new civil rights law clearly constitutional and to condemn the extremist John Birch Society.

Goldwater voted against the civil rights bill, saying it is unconstitutional and will require "a police state" for enforcement. He is a favorite of the John Birch Society and has refused to criticize its extreme position.

While we agree with Scranton on both points, they are hardly the kind of statements party platforms are likely to make.

Even the Democrats would be presumptuous to declare in their platform that the civil rights law is constitutional. That is a question which must be decided in the courts—probably by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Republican national platform is no more likely to condemn one small extremist group, although it could, as Scranton also suggested condemn extremists of both right and left wings.

The rest of Scranton's 14-point platform sounded as though the quarterback was kicking on the third down instead of trying the long pass.

The interesting fact of the matter was that most of Scranton's other recommendations were conservative in nature or at least compatible with Goldwater philosophy. The total effect of Scranton's platform "fizzle" was to make both men sound more alike.

With this fizzle of Scranton's platform fight, it appears that the Pennsylvania governor has fought the good fight, but lost miserably. His delegate strength is not much better than when he started in earnest June 12.

The Scranton enthusiasm has fizzled across the country. Republican leaders are adjusting themselves to the Goldwater candidacy and are saying that it won't be so bad after all.

We admire Scranton for his energetic effort to stop Goldwater. But it looks as though the football game is over.

Romanian Independence

The surprisingly independent actions of the Communist leaders of Romania are a hopeful sign of the disintegration of Russian rule over East European Communist "satellites."

The latest surprise from Romania is a direct challenge to Moscow over the annexation of the 17,116 square mile Romanian province of Bessarabia after Russian armies liberated Romania from German occupation in 1915.

The Romanian Communist rebels are reported to have raised the territorial question—they have not yet publicly demanded that the province be returned—as well as the question of the fate of one million Romanians living in the province under Russian Communist rule.

Romania has recently agreed to more trade with the United States and has asked for new contacts with the West.

At the same time, the Romanians have refused to participate in Russian plans for a Communist "common market" which requires them to produce agricultural products at a time when they are trying, with Western assistance, to build an industrial economy.

Romania is still a Communist nation. But the force of nationalism and national pride can be seen at work against the weakening power of the Kremlin in Eastern Europe.

It is a healthy development for America and the West.

Comment Of The Day

"Barry Goldwater has now decided to defoliate the whole Republican party. He has announced to the whole world that he cannot beat Lyndon Johnson. To add insult to injury, he has made this announcement in an overseas newspaper."

—Governor William Scranton commenting on Senator Barry Goldwater's statement in a German news magazine that no Republican could beat President Johnson "as of now."

GOP Adjusts To Barry

By Walter Lippmann

WASHINGTON — This week should show how the Republican Party will adjust itself to a Goldwater candidacy.

We know already from Sen. Everett Dirksen's decision to nominate Senator Goldwater and from remarks by Representative Melvin Laird, chairman of the Platform Committee, that the organization is now concerned with uniting the party behind Goldwater.

Some Goldwater supporters hope to unite the party by writing a platform on which Gov. William Scranton might be expected to run for Vice President.

If that could be done, the man who is the rallying point of the opposition to Goldwater will have been captured and brought into camp.

What are the alternatives to such an object and inglorious capitulation? There is the rather romantic hope of some of the stop - Goldwater delegates that they can force the Platform Committee, over which Senator Goldwater has predominant control, to write a platform on which the Senator would refuse to run.

If this happened, it would certainly be sensational. But it is not likely to happen.

Nor is it all likely that the platform will be an honest expression of Senator Goldwater's voting record and of his published but amended and expurgated views.

For that would hardly be too many Republicans.

Since the platform will almost certainly not be pro-Goldwater Republican nor a candid statement of Goldwater Republicans, it will have to be as deceptive as weasel words can make it.

Such an artfully meaningless platform would serve a purpose.

It would make it possible for certain of the old established Republican leaders to remain more comfortably within the party and thus to live to fight another day.

For, if they are to preserve their credit for the struggle which will surely break out if Goldwater suffers a disastrous defeat, they will have to avoid identifying themselves with Goldwater's doctrine while they maintain their party regularity.

The paramount issue before the Republican Party will be fought out after the election in November, and the question will be whether Senator Goldwater's capture of the nomination this year is to be confirmed by surrendering the party machinery permanently to the Goldwater faction.

There is no way of telling how this struggle will come out.

But we can be sure that unless the Goldwater faction grows enormously for some unforeseeable reason, it is not much more than 25 per cent of the American electorate.

Goldwater Republicanism, if it achieves permanent control of the party machinery and the rebirth of a genuine two - party system in this country will depend on developments, now unforeseeable, within the Democratic Party.

Governor Scranton is destined to play a leading part in the post-election struggle within the Republican Party.

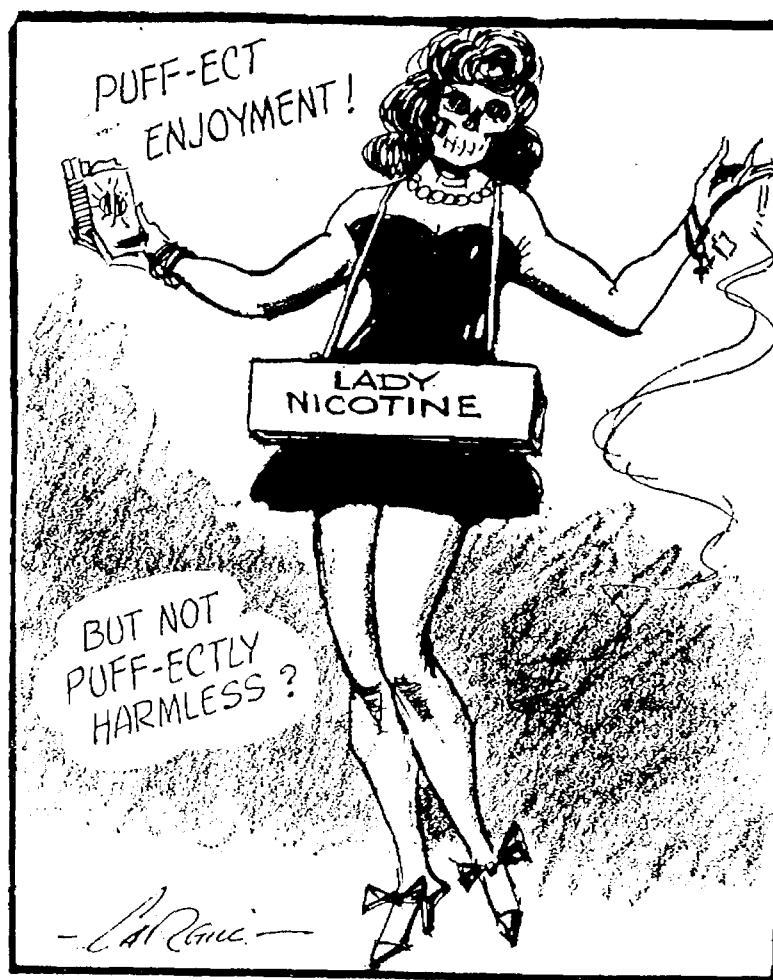

For that he will need to have identified himself clearly with a platform which, though it is rejected by this Goldwater convention, is a clear expression of the federalism, the progressivism, and the international sense of responsibility of the Republican Party of Hamilton, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt.

When the convention nominates Barry Goldwater next week, let a genuine Republican flag be flying nevertheless.

The Pennsylvania Story

Demos Bite Fingernails

By Mason Denison

HARRISBURG — As Pennsylvania Republicans — and Governor Scranton — head westward for the GOP presidential convention next week in San Francisco, Keystone State Democrats and sitting at home gnawing their fingernails to the second joint.

The conviction is strong among most Pennsylvania Democratic leaders that Governor Scranton in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination just doesn't have a chance.

And yet, in the opinion of these same donkey riders, there is always that "outside chance" the winds off the Pacific could blow the other way — with Mr. Scranton actually emerging on top of the GOP presidential pile.

It is this somewhat scary thought (to them) that has many a Pennsylvania Democrat on the gnawing end.

Their concern is not so much that Mr. Scranton might win in November should he gain the convention nod, as it is what he would do to Democratic hopes and chances in the Keystone State as a drawing card on state and local offices.

Most of them believe, as former Democratic Governor David L. Lawrence commented acerbically last month, "Nobody is going to lick Johnson (President Johnson)." While this may indeed turn out to be the case, the fact remains that should Mr. Scranton emerge with either the number one or two spot on the ticket, an overall win by President Johnson would by no means assure a "local" victory in carrying Pennsylvania; in fact under such circumstances Democrats feel a Keystone State win would be next to impossible to achieve.

In fact, almost no matter how you look at it, things do not seem to bode too well at this point for Pennsylvania Democrats.

Indications have been growing quietly around Capitol Hill over the past week and the early part of the week that a sharp change in Scranton strategy may well be in the offing before the convention gets under way. It shapes up like this:

Scranton campaign forces in recent weeks have become more and more dispirited (as noted previously by this column). The (unwanted) conviction has been growing day by day that the Governor's actual chances are becoming more and more remote of snatching the nod from Senator Goldwater.

What then could be in the offing?

A team-up in second spot with the Arizona Senator is regarded as most impractical and improbable in light of the strongly divergent ideologies of the two — espoused for the most part by Mr. Scranton — although it could happen, of course.

That something critical along the strategy line has been "in the wind" this week has been fairly clear to those close to the Scranton strategy camp, but by this writing nothing definitive has emerged; nothing firm.

Could it be that a sleeper emergence of Richard M. Nixon is in the offing, to brew just prior to or during the early days of next week's GOP convention — with the Scranton-Lodge forces suddenly throwing their weight behind a Nixon candidacy?

Where then would this leave Pennsylvania's Governor or Scranton? It could very conceivably find Mr. Scranton on the ticket with Mr. Nixon, in a number two spot — the obvious strategy being to provide a drawing card to knock out the Goldwater candidacy.

This may or may not materialize but the fact remains that it has been kicked around and continued to be kicked around the early part of the week — more seriously so as the delegate support Mr. Scranton has been seeking seemingly becomes more elusive with each passing campaign day.

Should this actually develop, Pennsylvania Democrats might just as well continue gnawing their fingernails insofar as this state would be concerned in November!

The Allen-Scott Report

Summit Pressures

WASHINGTON — Premier Khrushchev is bent on bringing about a "massive" summit conference next year regardless of who is elected U.S. president.

The Soviet ruler has disclosed this unannounced determination in a personal communication to U.N. Secretary General U. Thant. The latter wrote Khrushchev, as well as all other heads of state whose countries are U.N. members, concerning plans for a General Assembly meeting in New York early in 1965 to commemorate the International Cooperation Year approved by the Assembly in 1962.

U. Thant has told intimates he will discuss Khrushchev's aim for a "massive" summit conference when they confer in Moscow late this month.

President Johnson has been apprised of Khrushchev's scheme. Also he has been informed the Kremlin chief intends to use his attendance at the U.N. as a world forum for a deluge of militant propaganda, particularly against U.S. policies.

Foremost among those he will assail relate to Soviet satellite Cuba and Communist-ruled South Viet Nam.

This is clearly shown in one message U. Thant received from Khrushchev.

Expounding on his purpose to use the General Assembly meeting as a means of conducting a large-scale gathering of heads of state, Khrushchev asserted this would enable them to:

"Fully discuss the strict observance of all states, in accordance with the U. N. charter, of the sovereign rights and independence of other states; non-interference in their internal affairs; the condemnation of all attempts to impose economic blockades or the encouragement of subversive activities, and of violation of territorial waters and air space of any state."

MORE OF SAME — Equal stress by Khrushchev, in another note to U. Thant, was his off-voiced demand for an end to strategic (NATO) trade bars, and "the normalization of trade among all the regions and countries of the world, without artificial barriers or discrimination."

That still isn't all. The Soviet leader has grandiose ideas.

Other major issues specified by him for consideration at his contemplated "massive" summit conference are:

—Admittance to the United Nations of the Peoples Government of China and the East German Republic.

—"Neutralization of West Berlin."

—"Establishment of nuclear-free zones in Europe, Asia and Africa."

—"Prohibition of the spread of nuclear weapons."

—"Complete and final liquidation of all systems of colonialism."

Already, Khrushchev has one enthusiastic supporter of his plan — Yugoslavia's Communist ruler Marshal Tito.

In a communication to U. Thant, Tito warmly approves the idea of a "general meeting of heads of state" at the 1965 General Assembly session on the ground that it would "chart the way for a code for peaceful coexistence for the nations of the world."

PARTIAL U.S. APPROVAL — President Johnson has responded with a carefully qualified "yes — but."

Secretary General U. Thant has been advised the President "has no objection" to a meeting of heads of state, on two conditions: He is flatly opposed to a pre-arranged fixed agenda; he wants no announcement about possible U.S. participation in such a conference "at this time" — meaning until after the fall election.

Foreign affairs lieutenants of the President are credited as favoring Khrushchev's "massive" summit meeting, on the theory that would incline him to pursue a temperate course in the cold war during the next six months.

They also reportedly view such a conference as an opportunity for the U. S. to line up wide-scale backing for any regional neutralization understandings that may be worked out with Red China in South-East Asia, particularly in strife-torn South Viet Nam.

Despite official public disavowals of such plans, they are definitely contemplated and closely guarded overtures are underway.

Stories Behind Words

Blackguard

During the 15th and 16th centuries, when an English nobleman moved from one of his residences to another, the shift was not so easy. Bed linen, cooking equipment and other furnishings were loaded into wagons and carts, and the nobleman and his family set out on horses, leading the procession.

The wagon carrying the blackened pots and pans usually brought up the rear. The kitchen servants who accompanied this wagon were jokingly referred to as the "black guard."

The name was transferred to camp followers, noted for their low moral standards. Finally "black guard" was consolidated into "blackguard" and was used to describe a man of disreputable character.

Dear Abby

Are Non-Tippers Believed Strange?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband positively refuses to tip anyone unless he has put in a long time for doing something special for him.

He says waiters are paid to serve customers, doormen are paid to open doors, taxi drivers are paid to drive, and barbers are paid to cut hair, and he's sick of all these people with their hands out.

When we leave a restaurant, if looks could kill we'd both be dead. I get terribly embarrassed, but it doesn't seem to bother my husband a bit. How can I get it through his head that "tipping" is an accepted custom, and people who do not tip are considered strange?

NON-TIPPER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Many jobs (bellhops, waiters, doormen, manicurists) are considered attractive only because of the "tips" that go with them. And the salaries paid take "tips" into account. So in many cases, a tip is more than a fringe benefit. It is bread and butter. Granted, no establishment should expect the customers to pay their help, but until the system is changed, why punish the working folks?

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged man in love with a woman a few years my junior. We are both mature people. We both have had a previous marriage. She and I are completely congenial.

We like the same things, have similar educational backgrounds and can talk for hours without running out of conversation. I love her deeply, but she says she only "likes" me, she doesn't love me — and so no marriage. All I can do is hope and wait, but she says I'm wasting my time. That she knows her feelings for me won't change. Any suggestions?

UP AGAINST A STONE WALL

DEAR UP AGAINST: Believe her. Her answer might change, but her feelings are not likely to. Then you could have a wife who "likes" but does not "love" you. That would be dandy if it's only companionship you're both looking for — but don't expect more.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is proper to refer to a single woman who has never been married as an "old maid"? I have a dear friend who has never married.

She is attractive, popular, self-supporting and nobody's fool, and I am outraged every time I hear someone call her an "old maid." Some women turn down chances to marry because they can't get the man they want, and will settle for none other. Others have families to support.

There is probably not one unmarried woman who hasn't turned down at least one chance to marry. Why, then, do so many married women who are married to beasts get a smug satisfaction out of calling their unmarried friends "old maids"? I would like your comments, please.

MARIE

DEAR MARIE: The term "old maid" is not always intended as a slur. It can be used with gentleness and understanding. And self-sufficient women, unmarried by choice, probably couldn't care less. But I agree with you — when its connotations are cruel, those using the term should be ashamed of themselves.

"JOHNNY ON THE SPOT": Keep right on being punctual — it's one of the most beautiful of all attributes, although I personally have lost more time being on time than any one I know.

Speaking Of Your Health:

Some Questions Readers Are Asking

By Lester L. Coleman M.D.

CAN underarm deodorants and anti-perspirants be irritating when used every day?

Some skins can be sensitive or allergic to these preparations. Sometimes changing from one brand to another can relieve these skin irritations.

Usually they are absolutely safe and extremely effective, especially when bathing with soap and water precedes their use. No deodorant can be a substitute for regular bathing and personal cleanliness.

Is there a difference between heat stroke and heat exhaustion? What can be done when they occur?

They are technically different, but the distinction is so subtle that it can be made only by someone with expert training and experience.

If a victim needs help, loosen his clothing and have him lie down in a cool, shady spot. Gently sponge face and hands with cool applications. Do not give victims any brandy or other alcohol. Call for professional help.

Assure the patient that a doctor is on the way. Relieving the victim's anxiety is one of the most beneficial forms of first aid.

Don't try to be heroic or overzealous in your assistance. A basic rule for all first aid is to do only what is essential and get professional medical assistance as quickly as possible.

Untrained, well-meaning rescuers can actually make a condition worse by attempting to do too much.

WHAT can be done for a sprained ankle?

The immediate application of ice or cold compresses is beneficial in keeping the swelling down to a minimum and relieving some of the discomfort. Keep "off your feet" until the exact nature and extent of the injury is determined by a physician.

What may seem to be a simple sprain may prove to be a dislocation or fracture. For this reason it is unwise to neglect an injury or delay examination by a doctor.

Is it true that milk does not have to be warmed before feeding to an infant?

It has been successfully proven that babies and young children flourish just as well on cold milk.

It was found that tired mothers and fathers, too, flourish without the added burden of "cooking" at three o'clock in the morning.

About Town

—By Gene Brown

Because many young girls turn to this column for advice we would like to call to their attention a recent article in the N.Y. Herald Tribune about sun bathing. This article points out that while it is wonderful to get a deep healthy tan on your face when you are youthful, this tan usually turns your face leathery and pruned by the age of 40 and if you don't believe it check the smooth skin of your chest (presuming you are modest in your tanning) with a leathery-pruned face.

The instructors are all business. As Wells said, "Swimming is definitely a serious business."

You can hear Everett

The hilly held his rifle on the tenderfoot and ordered him to take a swig of white lightning. The reluctant visitor, seeing the weapon, could do no more than comply.

After downing a long snort of the stuff, the poor fellow gasped, "Wow! What horrible stuff!"

"Yeah," said the mountaineer, "it shore is. Now you hold the gun on me."

Overhead at the Quality Rest: "If my wife wasn't a girl I would have never stayed married."

Main St. Speed 'Serious Problem'

TROUDSBURG — John Trothway, Stroudsburg police chief, told borough council last night that speeding on lower Main St. "poses a serious problem."

At a council meeting in the municipal building, Trothway suggested the street be re-marked, permitting only one lane of traffic from Fifth St. to the interborough bridge. He said passing should not be permitted on this stretch.

The police chief said his hands are tied on the situation because the street is under the jurisdiction of the State Dept. of Highways.

Speed Limit

He said the borough has asked that no passing be permitted and the speed limit be lowered from 35 miles per hour to 25. The state has not approved the request.

He pointed out the state motor vehicle code requires police to clock a car's speed for a quarter of a mile before an arrest can be made.

"We would have to be on a speeder's tail at Fifth St. going 50 miles an hour to catch them before they reach the bridge," Trothway said.

John A. Kitchen, borough tax collector, reported $2,996 has been granted in 1963 tax exemptions. Kitchen's report showed $791 in occupation and $2,205 in per capita taxes were allowed.

Robert Weichel, council president, told Kitchen, "You have done a fine job. We are certainly pleased."

Councilman Joseph Kovarik, told council he has received several oral complaints concerning an unsanitary condition at 1314 Dreher Ave., where sewage from a septic tank or cesspool is overflowing and bubbling to the surface.

Kovarik said the rented property is owned by Frank L. Patterson Jr. and several complaint notices issued by the borough board of health have failed to correct the situation.

Kovarik was told to investigate the situation and report to council.

Contracts Awarded

In other action the council: —Awarded a contract to Pocono Paving Materials, Inc. of Stroudsburg, for 730 tons of bituminous concrete at $9.87 a ton. The paving firm was the only bidder.

—Awarded a contract to the Scranton Chemical Co. of Scranton for 10,000 pounds of liquid chlorine for use at the sewage plant.

—Heard a report from Mayor Joseph Small indicating the borough can save from $500 to $600 by consolidating its borough insurance under one policy.

It was decided to delay a decision until the August meeting to give Mayor Small time to gather more facts.

—Heard Samuel O. Wells, borough playground director, report that five children have cut their feet this summer on broken bottles in an open, dry creek bed near the playground. He suggested the borough install a drainage pipe to relieve the problem. Council took no action.

$114,184 Balance Listed By Pocono School Jointure

SWIFTWATER — Pocono Mountain Joint School Committee secretary David E. Neison said last night that the school system had a balance as of July 1 of $114,301.42 after paying June expenditures of some $81,184.72.

Bills remaining to be paid,

Neison told the committee at its regular meeting total $13,077.56. The full balance after the 1963-64 year will not be known until the cafeteria report is completed, Neison said.

Mrs. Joanne M. Pearson of Scrum, a parent, who attended the session, queried the committee on reports that Pocono Mountain Joint Jr.-Sr. High School is overstaffed and pays the highest cost per pupil of any school in the state.

Board members explained that in 1960-61, before moving to the new school, cost per pupil was $479.94. The figure jumped to $675.95 when the new joint school was opened, due to necessary expenditures. It was reduced to $600 in 1962-63.

Dr. Edmund Magann, committee president, added that the area served by the joint school pays one of the lowest taxes in Monroe County.

On the question of overstaffing, it was pointed out to Mrs. Pearson by committee members that a new parochial school, which opened at the same time, meant that the joint school lost some 200 pupils. C. Willis Dunlap, supervising principal, said that teachers could not be fired once their contracts were signed.

Dunlap also reported that the school had in fact been asked to add more teachers to satisfy state standards.

A special meeting of the committee was called for July 22 at 8 p.m. to consider bids for a variety of work which will be received on July 21.

Pocono Names Airport Member

POCONO — The Pocono Township Board of Supervisors appointed Chester Sebring to the Airport Authority for Pocono Township, at its meeting Tuesday, according to Board Chairman Russell Werkheiser.

$124 Million Available For New Jersey Rt. 80

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Rex M. Whitton, federal highway administrator, has told the Daily Record that the state of New Jersey has $124,332,792 in federal funds waiting to be applied to the building of interstate highways.

The statement was in reply to a question by this newspaper asking figures on the federal money available for such use by the state.

New Jersey has a commitment to build 68.3 miles of Interstate 80 which will link New York City to Stroudsburg with a superhighway.

As of now, only 17.3 miles are open to traffic, and 10.5 miles are in preliminary status — that is, rights of way have not been acquired.

Of Pennsylvania's commitment of 308.5 miles, only 22.7 are in preliminary status. The rest are open to traffic 31.8; under construction, 69.9; and in design stage, 185.1.

According to Whitton, the federal money is available for New Jersey to speed completion of Interstate 80 by September 30, 1972 interstate program completion date.

Last November, New Jersey voters turned down a bond issue which would have allocated state funds for its interstate project share. The federal government pays 90 percent, the states pay 10 percent.

Whitton said that federal funds are given to a state after the state has let contracts for actual construction of the road. Though they are available, the state must act first before the funds are released.

"Interstate 80 accounts for 68.3 of the designated 375.9 interstate miles in the state of New Jersey," Whitton said.

"All federal aid interstate funds apportioned to New Jersey for the fiscal years through 1965 have been obligated to projects or are available for obligation. As of May 31, 1964, New Jersey's balance of unobligated federal funds was $124,332,792."

"With respect to funds to be made available, approximately $455 million of interstate funds authorized for the fiscal years 1966 through 1971 will be apportioned to New Jersey," Whitton said.

Richard Albanus, 16, of Fawcett, N.J. driver, and Brian Sandner, 19, of Teaneck, N.J., were traveling east. The driver of the car failed to negotiate a curve, went off the road, and hit the rock, Stroudsburg State Police said.

Both occupants of the car suffered cuts on the chin, forehead, arms and body. They were treated at the General Hospital of Monroe County and released.

Albanus was arrested by state police and charged with driving without a license and failure to keep to the right. Sandner, a licensed operator, was charged with permitting Albanus to operate the vehicle.

The youths pleaded guilty to the charges at a hearing before Justice of the Peace William Walker of Smithfield Twp. Each paid a $30 fine and was released.

The collision occurred with a truck driven by Gilbert Silfe, 27, of Delaware Water Gap. The car was extensively damaged and $10 damage to the truck was reported.

Cars Collide

BANGOR — Two persons escaped injury in a two-car crash at the intersection of Pennsylvania Ave. and Rt. 191 in Bangor yesterday at 5 p.m.

A car driven by Lee Kistler, 17, of 135 N. Main St. Bangor was traveling east on Pennsylvania Ave. A car driven by Mrs. Margaret A. Williams, 51, of Hoboken, N. J., traveling north on Rt. 191 collided with the side of the Kistler vehicle.

Lincoln Ave. UR Project Wins Unanimous Support

EAST STROUDSBURG — No one opposed the $1.7 million Lincoln Ave. Urban Renewal Project at a final public hearing on the project last night.

The meeting was held in the East Stroudsburg Area Joint Junior - Senior High School auditorium, with about 25 people in the audience.

On the platform were the East Stroudsburg borough council, King Beers and Alton Jones of the Monroe County Redevelopment Authority, John M. Price and Stuart Pipher of the county commissioners, and William Heuser, chief clerk for the commissioners.

After a speech by Beers describing the area and future plans, the audience was asked for statements supporting the project. Several people spoke.

Statements of those against the project were solicited, and the huge auditorium was silent.

"I guess there's nothing to do but adjourn," said William Schmittman of the borough council, the moderator.

Favorable Comments
Statements in favor of the project were made by:

Jesse Flory, chairman of the Citizen's Advisory Council of East Stroudsburg — "We are in favor. We feel the community faces the problem of the decay of the central business district, and something is being done about it."

R. M. Hoof of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce — "During the last three weeks we have received a number of requests from businesses — not just big companies that belch smoke, but smaller plants. I'm glad to hear that industries are nibbling at the land."

Fred Walter of the East Stroudsburg Businessmen's Assn. — "We want to go in record in favor of the Lincoln Ave. project."

James A. Hanscome of the local chapter of the NAACP — "We are for progress and we feel this is one of the greatest things ever to happen to the borough."

Joseph Small, mayor of Stroudsburg and representative of the manufacturers' assn., could not be present, but Jesse Flory noted that he wanted to go on record in favor of the project.

Beers Statement
Beers described the area, and said:

"For those properties to be purchased, law requires two independent appraisals. The first of these has already been made, the second will be undertaken this fall."

"In the fall we expect federal approval. We will then reach a figure for purchase of the private land, and aid in relocating the families there."

The Redevelopment Authority has met with various interested parties (and) informed these prospective developers of the price of the land. We are now receiving blueprint plans from these developers showing their desires for this land.

"Within one week, a good portion of this land will be fully committed to developers and disposition documents will be forwarded to the federal government."

Budget of $1.7 Million
"The project is budgeted to cost $1,700,000. Flood protection work constructed by the Commonwealth is presently credited with $418,800, which exceeds the minimum local share of this project."

"I would like to point out that because of excess credits on the Lincoln Ave. project, the Borough of East Stroudsburg will only have to underwrite $1,787 at the South Cumberland St. redevelopment project."

Two For One
"Therefore, the borough is in the fortunate position of having two urban renewal projects for the price of one."

... the borough of East Stroudsburg will receive federal monies of approximately $1,907,053 (for the two projects) for an outlay on the borough's part of less than $50,000.

"After the projects are completed, the South Cumberland St. project will yield $3,400 in borough taxes per year and the Lincoln Ave. Project will yield $17,000."

"Therefore, the borough will realize its investment in only three years," Beers said.

There is no finer way to preserving memories than by a monument of granite or marble.

Pen Argyl Youth Jailed For Forgery

PEN ARGYL — James Harold Brinton, 18, of 495 Railroad Ave., Pen Argyl, was committed to Northampton County Prison Tuesday to await trial on charges of forgery and larceny brought by William Getz of 491 Railroad Ave., Pen Argyl.

Brinton appeared before Pen Argyl Justice of the Peace Raymond J. Pavin where he pleaded guilty to the forgery charge and not guilty to the larceny charge.

He was accused of taking blank checks, a watch, ring and a wallet from a box in Getz's home and then forging Getz's name on the checks. Six checks each for $15 have turned up after being cashed, police said. Bail was set at $2,000.

He then appeared before Wad Gap Justice of the Peace Raymond S. Daniel where he pleaded guilty to forgery of the other $15 check made payable to the Sampson meat store in Stockertown. Bail was set at $300.

He was also sentenced to serve 20 days in default of payment of $105 in fines and costs for misdating facts when applying for a driver's license. The complaint was filed by state police at Easton.

Brinton is a parole violator having been arrested in February of this year on a larceny charge.

At National Conventions

Keystone GOP Delegates Usually On Winning Side

By ROBERT S. VAN FLEET
Chief, Ottaway News Service
SAN FRANCISCO — Except for one chivalrous bow to the ladies in 1952, Pennsylvania delegations to Republican National Conventions have been consistently on the winning side ever since 1932 when they voted with the losers for a strong plank on repeal of the 18th Amendment. But the delegates, scheduled to arrive here Saturday and Sunday from Pike, Monroe, and the other counties of the state, find themselves already in an underdog role this year, facing the prospect of defeat in their quest for the nomination of Gov. William W. Scranton. With the first-ballot nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona an apparent certainty, Pennsylvanians and other eastern-state delegations have turned their attentions to winning a battle for moderate causes in the platform committee that has been meeting since Monday.

Historically, Pennsylvania, while often splitting her vote, has strongly supported Dwight D. Eisenhower, Thomas E. Dewey, and Wendell L. Willkie in the three contested conventions of the past 24 years.

Nixon, Eisenhower The state's 70 votes went to Richard M. Nixon and to Eisenhower in the no-contest convention of 1960 and 1956.

In 1952, when the party was last split over conservative versus moderate Presidential candidates, Pennsylvania gave Eisenhower 53 votes on the first ballot, then shifted all 70 to his column before the roll call was finished.

Only fifteen had gone to Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Likewise in 1952, Pennsylvania had supported the Eisenhower forces in the key procedural votes prior to the nomination, votes that had been crucial in breaking the pace of the pre-convention Taft bandwagon.

The "Fair Play" amendment, holding that contested delegates could not vote on the question of their own credentials, was supported by Pennsylvania, 57-13. Another key vote, the seating of an insurgent delegation from Georgia, was supported 52-18.

But the Keystone State went down to defeat on the question of approving the rules report, the issue being the failure of a new apportionment system to guarantee women a fair proportion of convention seats.

Pennsylvania voted solidly 70 votes No. But the report was approved, 683-531. In 1948, Sen. Edward Martin, who had gone through the pre-convention campaign as a favorite son, withdrew in support of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York before the balloting began. Pennsylvania then nominated Dewey and gave him 41 votes to 28 for Taft on the first ballot.

In 1940, all but a scattering of Pennsylvania's 72 votes stayed with her favorite son, Gov. Arthur H. James for five ballots. Then on the sixth and deciding ballot, Pennsylvanians cast their entire 72 votes for Willkie.

This year, the Pennsylvania delegation is backing another favorite son.

Larger Proportions But the campaign has taken on larger proportions.

After the defeat of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the California primary on June 2, Gov. Scranton entered the campaign as the last hope of moderates in the party to stop the nomination of Goldwater. Rockefeller, Henry Cabot Lodge, Milton S. Eisenhower, and other moderates have swung their support behind him. Whether they can muster enough support is problematical.

As the convention prepares to open on Monday, they are still trying.

Should they fail, Pennsylvania delegates and the others from the industrial East will return from convention losers for the first time in 30 years.

Snyder Lauds Council Push For Lighting

STROUDSBURG — Harold Snyder, Stroudsburg borough manager, said yesterday the Stroudsburg council should be commended for "its foresight in lighting entrances and exits on Interstate Rt. 80 in the borough."

Snyder said the installation of 28 new lights at the entrances and exits "alleviates a bad condition."

He said the 20,000-lumen mercury vapor lights will cost the borough $5,000 annually. This includes electricity. All borough street lighting is purchased from the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. on an installed per light basis, Snyder pointed out.

The new lights have been in service since June 26. Six lights are installed at Dreher Ave., 38 at Park Ave. and Broad St. and 14 at W. Main St.

Lighting exits and entrances of interstate highways is the responsibility of the townships or municipalities where the ramps are located. Stroudsburg is the only community in the county to have completed this lighting.

Largest Area Guard Group Slated For 2 Week Drill

EAST STROUDSBURG — The largest number of area National Guardsmen ever to attend the annual two weeks summer training will depart the East Stroudsburg National Guard Armory Saturday, July 11 at 6 a.m.

All 11 of the Guard's trucks will carry the 122 men and three officers to Camp A. P. Hill, Va.

Commander of the unit, Co. A, 1st Battalion, 109th Infantry is Capt. George P. Broadhead. First Platoon leader is 1st Lt. Edward Flory; Weapons Platoon leader is 2nd Lt. Ronald C. Shick; First Sgt. Donald B. Kingel; First Platoon Sgt., Clark J. Frailey; Second Platoon Sgt., Melvin Curtis; Weapons Platoon Sgt., Thomas Lee; and Administrative Assistant is Sgt. Albert M. Kollar.

Eleven men who signed up for six months active duty, but haven't been called as yet will accompany the Company for the two weeks.

The Company will join the rest of the convoy at the Lehigh Valley Interchange.

Charles A. Booth

Record Names Booth To Ad Staff

STROUDSBURG — Charles A. (Chuck) Booth has been added to the Daily Record staff as a display advertising representative. Horace G. Heller, general manager, and Charles Edmondson, advertising manager, made the announcement yesterday.

Booth is a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School, and a veteran of three and a half years Navy service. He also spent six and one-half years with the Pennsylvania State Police.

A resident of 24 N. Green St., East Stroudsburg, Booth is married to the former Jean Duval of Camp Hill, Pa. They have two sons, Michael and Curtis.

Prior to coming to the Record, Booth worked seven years as an agent and manager for the Nationwide Insurance Co. He was with its East Stroudsburg office for the past 18 months.

Booth is the immediate past commander of V.F.W. Post 2540, East Stroudsburg, and is presently on the post's board of governors.

Professor To Probe Explosives

BETHLEHEM — Lehigh University assistant professor of chemical engineering recently received a grant of $16,265 from the U. S. Army to do explosives research.

The grant, from Picatinny Arsenal of Dover, N.J., is for one year of pure research. Stein said application for the sum had been made in July, 1963.

The research will involve theoretical predictions by computer of the amount of time it will take various explosives exposed to 200 degrees centigrade to detonate.

Predictions will be tested against laboratory experiments using lead azide as the explosive.

Stein will be assisted by Arnold Piccinini, National Defense Education Act fellow at Lehigh.

There will be a total of 122 trucks with 1,300 officers and men of the Third Brigade, which includes all units of the 109th Infantry.

Col. John J. Remetta, Brigade Commander, said that "training begins the minute we get there," Saturday about 9 p.m.

The men will move into their "permanent" quarters on arrival, setting up foot lockers and preparing their bunks and tents.

On Sunday, all units will receive an orientation on what lies ahead for the two weeks and a fire prevention class. Unit officers will inspect ranges, bivouac areas and training sectors.

Religious Services Religious services will be conducted by brigade chaplains.

Training begins in earnest Monday, when the citizen-soldiers leave their "permanent" quarters for a week in the field. Units will march to individual bivouac areas and prepare a tactical living area.

They will operate under simulated combat conditions, with all pup tents separated widely. The troops will "dig in" on the perimeter of their company area to ward off attack from "enemy forces."

During the first night in the field, the units will have to defend their sectors from attack by "aggressors" made up of selected men from the brigade. The tactical problem continues until almost midnight.

Small Unit Training Following the first day of bivouac, units begin individual and small unit training. Each company goes through a different phase of the schedule for the rest of the camp to insure that all units will have access to all types of training.

Among the subjects to be studied will be tank-infantry training, heavy weapons firing, individual and crew-served weapons range firing and rifle and weapons platoons in conduct of the defense and attack.

Staff Headquarters personnel will perform on the job training during the encampment in their various specialties.

Rounding out the first week will be a full field inspection followed by the annual division review.

The second week's training resumes Monday morning and continues until Friday afternoon when Brigade units will prepare for departure.

The best part of the encampment comes upon arrival home — the troops are paid, and after a final formation, DISMISSED.

Special Vacation For Rev. Weinland

NEWFOUNDLAND — The Rev. George Weinland, of Canadensis, former resident of Newfoundland and retired Moravian minister who served the Hopewell Church here, had a very special vacation this year.

Rev. Mr. Weinland attended the 50th reunion of his graduating class from Pomona College, and then visited Moravian Indian Moravian Church at Banning, California, where he met his youngest brother and many old-time friends. The Church was founded by the Weinland boys' father 75 years ago, and the local man was born there.

The vacation began when Rev. Mr. Weinland flew from Philadelphia to Houston to visit with his daughter, Beatrice's family. Then he flew to San Diego, where he was met by his older brother, Henry, and the latter's wife. He also visited with his Aunt Alice, who is 87 years of age.

Truck Owner Sues Bangor

BANGOR — Reynold Shoemaker of Wind Gap, has filed suit for $820 damages to his tractor-trailer against the Borough of Bangor, the Bangor Gas Co., and E. H. Staples Construction Co. of 455 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg. The suit, filed in Northampton County Court, alleges that Shoemaker's truck sank into a refilled excavation at the corner of Messinger and Kline Streets last January 27. It states there was no warning sign where Staples construction had excavated for the gas company. The action was filed by Francis H. S. Ede of Pen Argyl.

Cherry Lane Production Appeals To Young, Old

By Charles McNett
Daily Record Reporter
TAMMONT — The Cherry Lane Playhouse's current favorite, "The Desert Song," by Sigmund Romberg, one of the last great composers in the tradition of the Viennese operetta.

On this romantic base, Oscar Hammerstein II and Orto Hovbach, who did the book and lyrics, erected an adventurous Arabian extravaganza inspired, no doubt, by the success of Rudolph Valentino.

Set in Morocco, "Desert Song" tells the story of the love of Margot Bonvalet, played by Barbara Cole, for the

13th Music Festival At Tamiment

TAMMONT — Thirteenth Annual Music Festival opens Friday at Tamiment. Featuring the Curtis String Quartet of Philadelphia, all proceeds will go to the Pocono Art Center.

Friday's program, set to begin at 9 p.m., will include Hayden's "Emperor Quartet," Kodaly's "Quartet No. 2," and Beethoven's "Quartet opus 59, No. 3."

Members of the quartet are Jascha Brodsky, violin; Mehl Mehta, violin; Max Aronoff, viola; and Orlando Cole, cello.

Tickets at $2.00 may be purchased at Pocono Art Center, Shawnee, or at Tamiment.

2 Released From Jail

STROUDSBURG — Two men were released from the Monroe County Jail yesterday.

Charges of non support and desertion lodged against Richard J. Fitzgerald, 24, of the 125th Signal Corps at Tobyhanna were withdrawn by his wife. The hearing was held yesterday afternoon before Stroudsburg Justice of the Peace Floyd W. Kellogg.

Fitzgerald was apprehended and committed to jail Tuesday night by constable Clarence Marsh.

Lee Poperowitz, of Ashley, paid a $10 fine on charges of disorderly conduct. He was jailed Tuesday night. He received a hearing yesterday before Kellogg.

BERLIN (AP)—A West Berlin amateur photographer has captured a rare picture of flight from East Germany.

The dramatic picture shows two East German brothers, aged 21 and 19, at the moment of greatest danger as they were scrambling over the last barbed wire fence separating them from West Berlin.

The photographer, who insists on remaining anonymous, happened to be passing at the moment with a camera. He had no time to focus, just pointed his camera and pressed the release.

The result was not perfect photography. But the figures of the two young men, struggling across the obstacle before they could be shot, can be seen in the picture, which was made June 24 and published Monday in the West Berlin newspaper B.Z.

The escape point lay between two East German watch towers in which machine guns are mounted. The brothers waited for six hours hidden in a cornfield, before making their flight. They were across the wire before the Red guards could open fire.

Shastri Reports Are Stopped

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The government announced yesterday it will stop issuing statements on the health of ailing Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri because "his condition continues to be good."

A spokesman said Shastri, who suffered a mild heart attack June 26, is attending to official business and receiving visitors though still confined to his bedroom.

LV Accident Forecast Exceeded

BETHLEHEM — Lehigh Valley Chapter, National Safety Council, reported yesterday that its estimate of deaths and injuries due to traffic accidents over the Fourth of July weekend had been exceeded. One person was killed and 35 injured in 51 accidents.

Covering Carbon, Lehigh, Monroe, Northampton, and Warren (N.J.) Counties, the LV Safety Council had expected 30 injuries and one death in the 54-hour period beginning 6 p.m. Friday, July 3.

A breakdown of statistics show that Monroe had nine accidents, injuring seven. Carbon, the only county with a traffic fatality, had four accidents which injured two, in addition to the death.

14 in Northampton
Northampton ran up a total of 14 accidents causing injuries to only six, while Lehigh had the high total of 18 accidents and 15 people hurt. Figures for Warren show five injured in six mishaps.

On a state-wide basis, the report said, there were 18 killed. Nationally, 732 persons met death by accident from 6 p.m. Thursday to midnight Sunday. 310 died in traffic.

The council's analysis showed that heavy traffic and careless driving pushed up the toll. Most accidents, it said, could have been avoided. Multiple injuries in one and two-car crashes, especially in Lehigh, ran the total up, the report continued.

Some 15 per cent of all traffic accidents were caused by persons later arrested by police for drunken driving, it concluded.

Reds Send Machines

LAHORE, Pakistan (AP) — Russian tractors and earth moving machinery will start arriving in Pakistan in September, a Soviet trade delegation leader told newsmen. Pakistan and Russia signed an agreement in June under which this country will get $11 million worth of such machinery on 10-year credit.

Naval Aviation Cadet Douglas R. Cooke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Cooke of 906 Scott St., Stroudsburg, is attending Pre-flight School at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

During the 16-week training, he will study aerodynamics, mathematics, physics, navigation, orientation, navigation, engineering, leadership, and other subjects essential to becoming a naval officer.

Upon completion of the course he will be commissioned, then attend further flight training at Pensacola.

Marine PFC James M. Stout, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Stout of Pocono, is a member of Marine Battalion Landing Team 18, which demonstrated April 22 its sea assault capabilities on Sardinia in the Mediterranean for the Commander of the Sixth Fleet, Vice Admiral W. E. Gantner.

The team is scheduled to return to Camp Lejeune, N.C., in mid-June.

Robert Malcolm Brimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brimer of RD 2, Stroudsburg, was enlisted in the U.S. Navy under the Nuclear Field Engineering

Technician Program at a recent ceremony held at the Navy Recruiting Station, Wilkes-Barre. Brimer will undergo nine weeks of Recruit Training at Great Lakes, Ill.

He will begin a training cycle which will include the following: Class "A" Basic Technical School, Submarine School, Training on a conventional submarine, Basic Nuclear Power School, Operator Training Unit and then assignment to a Nuclear powered submarine. Young men entering this program must obligate themselves for a period of six years due to the extensive training program which takes approximately three years.

Upon completion of recruit training Brimer will be advanced one pay grade and be granted 14 days leave. Later he will be assigned to the first phase of his training.

M-Sgt. Francis L. Bamrick, son of Frank Bamrick of Bushkill, participated in Royal Flush IX, a North Atlantic Treaty Organization combat reconnaissance training exercise held recently in Central Europe.

Sgt. Bamrick is an aircraft maintenance superintendent in the 6th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing at Laon, France. He is a graduate of Edwardsville High School. His wife, the former Marguerite Morgans, is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Case of Main St., Edwardsville.

'Paupack Joint Board Reorganizes School Units

NEWFOUNDLAND — The Wallenpaupack Area Joint School Board, meeting with L. Bruce Worrell presiding in the July session, hired one teacher and accepted the resignation of two.

Hired was Ralph Schwab, of Lehigh, a graduate of East Stroudsburg State College who also holds a bachelor of science degree in textile engineering. Mr. Schwab, who will teach general science, earth-space science and some biology, has done engineering designing, was commissioned with the Army military police, and began his teaching in the service and decided to make it a career.

The resignations of Miss Elsie Swingle, English and library science teacher, and Mr. Lawrence Carter, industrial arts, were accepted. The board empowered the administrative committee and the administrators to hire teachers at their discretion.

Worrell appointed the following members to serve on reorganized committees, with chairman named first: Administrative — Directors Worrell, Hutton, Butler, Banks, Wallat, Kranich, McGraw, Treshnik and Masters; Building — Gumbel, McConnell, Burdick, Schenagel, Rietz, Robinson, Pasquariello, Kostice, Stephens; Purchasing — Eckes, Kingston, Schmalzle, Haldeman, Rogers, Anschuetz, Rowe, Erk, Minnich; Finance — McGinnis, Blaine, McLain, Butchins, Vogler, Murphy, Anschuetz, Boehm, Frick, Erk and Dean.

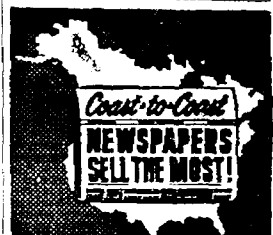

Also Transportation — Mazaga, Vennie, McLain, Hutclins, Mark, Boehm, Manhart and Gibbons; Hot Lunch — Bancroft, McConnell, Phillips, Murphy, Frick, Mazzga, Daniels, Dein; Athletics — Kranich, Blewett, Butler, Rowe, Kostice, Stephens, Bobst and Callaghan.

It was announced that the Paupack Township Board has reorganized with the following officers: President, A. Treshnik; Vice President, Mrs. Elizabeth Daniels; Secretary — Mrs.

Lehigh Vetoes Duplicate Work

BETHLEHEM — Lehigh University will no longer grant credit to students enrolled in a foreign language course deemed a duplication of training previously received by the student in secondary school.

The policy, according to Dean W. Ross Yates of the university's College of Arts and Sciences, will take effect in September. In general, Yates said, two years of secondary language study will be considered the same as one year of language at Lehigh.

Planners To Screen Applicants

STROUDSBURG — A three-man committee was appointed Tuesday night to screen applicants for the position of county planning director by the Monroe County Planning Commission.

After the committee has chosen three or four men who are eligible, the applicants will appear before the commission for final approval.

Ralph Reppert is committee chairman. He will be assisted by Vance Megargel and Chester Miller. The commission discussed problems in obtaining a county planner.

Some communities have sought a county planner for several years before they found one acceptable. Also, some have raised the salary from $9,000 to $10,000 as an added incentive and have still had difficulty Reppert explained.

"I suggest we contact Jim Hertz who is with the Bureau of Community Development, State Department of Commerce in Harrisburg. We should submit applications of those who apply for the director's job," Chester Miller remarked.

In other action, the planning commission appointed a five-man committee to investigate the problems of county development. This concerns the subdivision of lot sizes and roads in trailer parks and residential developments.

The committee will obtain state minimum and maximum lot size specifications as well as those of the various townships. The committee findings will be given at the next meeting.

Committeemen are Vance Megargel, chairman; Joseph Liskiey, Montgomery F. Crowe, Donald DeOtte and Leo A. Acherman Jr., commission engineer.

Crowe noted Monroe County commissioners support.

"I've been to many county commissioners meetings. Never before have I seen a group of commissioners more cooperative than the commissioners," Crowe said.

The planning commission has submitted its budget to the commissioners and won approval. The budget is a cooperative payment plan for the planning commission. Two-thirds of the program is paid for by the federal government and one-third by the county. Plan approval by the federal government will get the go-ahead for acquiring a county planner.

Approved For Payment
A total of $81.53 in outstanding bills was approved for payment. Of this amount, $13.33 for a minute book; $34 for planning maps; $4.50 for a Harrisburg trip, and $7.70 for a field trip.

They also approved a two signature check system. With this system the secretary-treasurer and vice chairman or one of the commission members must sign the check to be valid for payment.

Lighting Recognition
The commission also consented to send a letter of recognition to the Borough of Stroudsburg. The letter will commend the borough on the outstanding job of providing an adequate and well-lighted area at Interstate Rt. 80 approaches and exits.

Well Lighted
It was noted that in this area the interchanges are well-lighted in comparison to other cities near Stroudsburg in eastern Pennsylvania.

Finally, the planning commission noted that it had contacted other township supervisors and officials urging attendance at the Monroe County Planning Commission meetings.

The next meeting of the Monroe County Planning Commission will be held in the Monroe County Courthouse, Stroudsburg courtroom 2, July 21 at 8 p.m.

Roundtable For Pocono Scout Area

STROUDSBURG — Pocono District, Delaware Valley Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold a roundtable picnic on July 15 at the Culpepper Picnic Grove, Camp Weyandt, beginning at 5:30 p.m. All scouts and their families are invited.

The group will also tour the camp and attend Order of the Arrow lap-out ceremonies at 8 p.m.

July 22 there will be a district committee meeting at the camp. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m. and the meeting will follow at 7:30 p.m.

Scout's new district executive, Charles Evans, will attend the two meetings. Evans, his wife and four children will live in Stroudsburg.

Pocono Twp. was formed by a petition to the Court of Northampton County November 1816. It received its name from the mountains of the same name. The population in 1960 was 1,474.

S-burg Man Sues Local Bus Firm

STROUDSBURG—A Stroudsburg man has brought suit against a local transportation company for injuries he received when the bus he was riding in jounced him into the baggage rack.

Donald E. Whitaker of 1737 Honeysuckle Lane in Stroudsburg is suing Shawnee Press of Delaware Water Gap, Keystone Tours, Inc., and the Delaware Valley Transportation Co. of 213 N. 6th St. in Stroudsburg for an excess of $10,000.

The suit was brought yesterday in the office of Frank Smith, Monroe County prothonotary, by Russell L. Mervine, attorney for the plaintiff.

The suit claims that at 11 p.m. on March 4, 1963, he was in the bus on Rt. 69 in New Jersey when the bus hit a hole in the road.

The jolt, according to the suit, threw him upwards in the baggage rack so that he hit his head, and fell onto the seat, where he struck his right hip.

He claims lower back and spine injuries. An affidavit shows he expended $478.90 for medical bills. The suit asks damages in excess of $10,000.

Disaster Fund Dance At ESSC

EAST STROUDSBURG — A benefit dance, featuring "The Devils," will be held in the East Stroudsburg State College gymnasium, Monday night, July 13. All proceeds realized from the event will be donated to The Marshalls Creek Disaster Relief Fund.

The dance, sponsored by a student committee, will be held from 9 to 11 p.m.

The suggested dress for the dance is informal summer wear and soft soled shoes. Donation for the dance is 75 cents per person. Refreshments have been donated and will be served without charge.

This affair is open only to college students. It was suggested that students planning to attend the dance should bring some type of college identification with them Monday night.

Tickets can be secured at the door. For those who wish to have them earlier, they will be available in the college dormitories and cafeteria.

The committee hopes that all college students will support the benefit dance and aid The Marshalls Creek Disaster Relief Fund.

Tunkhannock Twp. was formed by taking some land from Tobyhanna Twp. by a petition to the Courts of Monroe County in 1856. The population in 1960 was 214.

Work Night For G-D-S Fair Group

NEWFOUNDLAND — A work night will be held at the fairgrounds tonight, beginning at 6 p.m.

Those who can assist in the work are asked to bring hammers and/or shovels. There is no charge to be done on the new pole barn and games building.

The bleachers need to be repaired, and the large posters for the fair are to be made.

In announcing the work night, fair officials also reminded residents of Greene, Dreher, Sterling, Salem, Paupack and Palmyra Townships, (all part of the association) that now is the time to plan for entries in the fair.

The "best" in canned goods, needlework, houseplants, flowers, garden crops, and many other departments should be cared for or done with entry in the fair in mind.

"For instance," Carroll Fetherman, president of the Fair Association said, "select a plant with the potential to win at the fair. Give it real 'green thumb' treatment and you may be rewarded with a blue ribbon."

Anyone in the six townships, and from any age group, may enter as many exhibits as he or she wishes, in as many departments.

The fair will begin on September 2 and continue through September 5.

The Family Lawyer

Parking Lot Law
If you drive a car, you probably have frequent occasion to use a parking lot. But what may be a handy convenience for you may also be a happy hunting ground for the car thief. Do you know your rights in case your car is stolen?

By and large, the law divides parking lots into two basic types. Let's consider them separately.

Type "A" Lot
At this lot you pay your fee and park the car yourself, keeping the keys. You have a right (exercise it!) to lock the car, and you may drive out without handing in any ticket.

Legally, this is a kind of "lease." You are paying for the temporary use of a parking space, but not much more. Thus, a man whose car was stolen from a "Type A" lot (at a ball park) failed to collect damages for his loss.

Under such a parking arrangement, said the court, a car owner could hardly expect the management to keep a keen lookout for thieves.

In short, the primary responsibility for the car continues to be yours.

Type "B" Lot
At this lot you leave your keys in the car, so the attendant can park it for you — and move it around in your absence. Furthermore, you get a ticket which you are supposed to turn in when you leave.

This arrangement is called a bailment, and its vital element is the transfer of possession to the management. With possession goes responsibility. Now you are paying not only for use of a parking space but also for a reasonable amount of supervision and safekeeping.

Thus, a man whose car was stolen from a "Type B" lot (at a busy intersection) won full compensation from the management. The court found that the lot had too little fencing and too few attendants for safety.

What about all the small print — or large print, for that matter — on the ticket you get? If the ticket says "Not Responsible For Theft," does that automatically block your claim?

As a rule, the law frowns on efforts by parking lot proprietors to dodge responsibility for their own negligence. Proprietors have had a measure of success, in some states, in putting a dollars-and-cents limit on their liability. But generally they do not get off scot-free, no matter how plainly the ticket might say so. Courts feel that

Two Cars Crash Near Fern Ridge

FERN RIDGE — Two men escaped injury yesterday at 1:35 p.m. on Rt. 940 in Tobyhanna Twp. near Pocono Lake.

A car driven by Charles Stauffer Jr., 19, of Allentown went into a skid and collided with a car driven by Arthur Weis, 50, of New York City, according to State Police at Fern Ridge.

Extensive damage to both cars is said to have occurred. No injuries were reported.

such tough terms, imposed on the relatively helpless motorist, are just too unfair to be enforced.

Vacation School Holds Graduation

SAYLORSBURG — Vacation Bible School commencement of the Evangelical United Brethren Church and the Hamilton Church, Saylorsburg, was held recently at the fire hall.

Theme of the school was "Jesus, the Promised Saviour." The Rev. Clair Matz conducted ceremonies. Students received certificates of attendance from their teacher.

Pugh Charged On License

STROUDSBURG — Harold F. Pugh of 463 Lincoln Ave., East Stroudsburg was charged with driving while his license was under suspension. He was apprehended by Stroudsburg State Police.

Pugh was arraigned yesterday before Mrs. Ruth E. Miller, Stroud Twp. Justice of the Peace. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was freed on $50 bail for appearance in court.

Jackson Twp. was established Dec. 13, 1843 and was named in honor of President of the United States Andrew Jackson. The township was originally part of Pocono Twp. Population in 1960 was 878.

Chevrolet dealers sell more cars than anybody Because they sell great cars

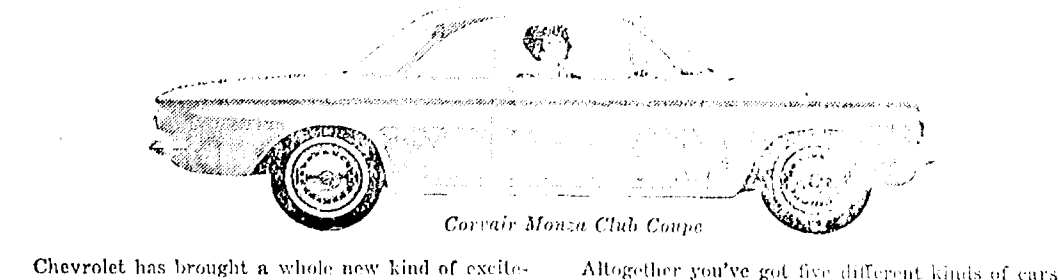

Chevrolet Impala Sport Coupe

Chevrolet Malibu Sport Coupe

Chevrolet Nova Sport Coupe

Chevrolet Monza Club Coupe

Chevrolet has brought a whole new kind of excitement to everyday driving this year. It's a fifty-yard-line, ten-rows-up kind of excitement.

And whether you're cushioned in the bucket seat of a luxurious Chevrolet Impala Super Sport or behind the wheel of the surprisingly roomy Chevelle, you'll feel it.

Whether you're gobbling up a hill in a thrifty Chevy II or making tracks on a sandy beach with the rear-engined Corvair, you'll feel it. Whether you're just looking at a Corvette or kicking up some dust with one, you'll feel it.

Altogether you've got five different kinds of cars and up to 45 different models to choose from. And each one is looking even more attractive as the '64 car-year closes out.

You couldn't pick a better time to build on the model you like either, for behind each one is a list of special Chevrolet options as long as your arm.

So stop in at your Chevrolet dealer's now and see what all the excitement is about. Get behind the wheel of America's most popular car. Or all five wheels. And don't be surprised if you see your neighbor doing the same thing.

Book Fair Is Success For AAUW

Stroudsburg — The annual AAUW sponsored Book Fair currently going on in Stroudsburg has met with success according to Mrs. Wendy Mazer, and Mrs. Margaret Wells, co-chairmen of the event.

The need for books continues, Mrs. Wells pointed out, since there has been a call for history, travel and National Geographic magazines.

Children's books and paperback books are needed as the supply of these are running low.

Mrs. Mazer pointed out that the book fair this year is being held in a store, which gives the atmosphere familiar to those who browse in used book stores as found in the city.

Books for the fair or people interested in books may go to 762 Main St., Stroudsburg. The fair hours are Thursday and Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday, 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Outdoor Art Show Opens On Friday

Stroudsburg — Fair weather and sunny skies would be welcomed by the more than 125 artists who will participate in the 13th annual Pocono Mountain Art Group sponsored Outdoor Art Show Friday and Saturday in Courthouse Square.

According to Olivia Dreher, chairman of the show, of the artists who have registered, some have been with the show since 1951, for others, this will be a first time.

The art work will be done in various mediums, oil, water color, pastels and will represent as many schools of thought in art as there are artists. Notable trends in art include the traditional, expressionistic, collages and abstracts.

This show, as the ones in the past, will be an open show with any exhibitor welcomed by Mona Fitzgerald, registrar. Space will be assigned in the square by Frank Fitzgerald, art group president.

It was noted that traffic through the square will be rerouted for the two-day duration of the show. Exhibitors will provide camp chairs and clotheslines for hanging displays.

Officers of the art group include Natella Sprague, vice president; Mrs. Walter Sharpe, secretary and Mrs. Jack Farley, treasurer.

whether or not I should reveal the identity of the local clubwoman (very attractive and a regular diner each Monday night in our Tea Room) who followed the fruit juke with whipped cream, of this past week's 99c special, with a piece of black cherry crumb pie. Maybe I shouldn't. She swears that if I tell on her, she'll force me to admit that I did the very same thing — and I needed all those calories like I need a hole in the head! Oh, well! Our Tea Room pies are worth every bit of compunction and miserable afterthought.

Wondering too, whether or not I should recommend William P. Wells (yep—that's our Bill) as a dentist. In the event you cannot get an appointment with your own. He certainly can look the part when rigged into a dentist's smock and equipped with a mean looking pair of pliers. But it's rather frightening when you realize he's actually a merchandising man. There's one satisfaction, however—if you DO jump through a window in your haste to leave the room, you'll never know, as you lie unconscious on the pavement, that your molar is aching.

Wonder if I might also mention that the reason Bill is grinning so broadly these days is NOT that he just kept his dental appointment, but because Marilee Albert's "Dress Spectacular" in the Keystone Room has been going fantastically well. Wonder if I should tell a further truth about this thing—that on Monday alone, Marilee and her fashion salesladies rung up more sales dollar wise than the average small-town specialty shop rings up in a full week. Take this as proof that our sale selection is really varied, lovely, and in perfect tune with the times. Incidentally, it continues throughout the week, if the stock holds out that long!

Wonder if Sarah and Frank Butler mind if I tell them publicly FLIP SKIRT from the New York Couture Group is another trend suggestion. The 1961 variation of the "bared" look is the "half

Trend Tips, Fashion Variations Updated

By Bobby Westbrook

Daily Record Family Fare Editor

NEW YORK — Both the shadow and substance of fashion opened the 43rd National Press Week of the New York Couture Group at the Pierre Hotel, in fact as well as in the world of its press director, Kitty Campbell.

A shadow screen reflected the new silhouettes, which Miss Campbell called the "shadow of 1964 fashion trends" for Fall and the substance was reflected in fabric, color and detail into which individual designers translated those effects.

Frankly, the silhouette, in shadow or in reality, is not that much different. Women who have been holding their breath for fear a new and drastic change in fashions will make their whole wardrobe look dated may breathe easily. It is not going to be this season.

There are subtle differences, of course, and here is where the fashion reporter may be of service to readers, whether they buy from couture designers or during the clearance sales at their favorite store. A winter coat represents a major investment in any woman's budget, for instance and it's good economy to buy one with a long fashion future.

Coat Topic

Now about those coats. They all have long, waist-length sleeves. How you are going to sew back the part you cut off your old coat two years ago poses a problem. However, for that new coat, look for four major silhouettes:

The penguin look: half or quarter belts pulled through the front to bring it close to the figure while the back remains falling free;

The skinny coat: which is just what it sounds like — straight up and down with firmly set-in sleeves.

The side-closing coat: very important in both suits and coats, often with no collar at all or with standing or ring collars.

The wrap-coat: the kind you have to clutch together because there's no other way to fasten it. It comes in a cape, cocoon or barrel shape.

It is going to be a big season for suits, the biggest in many years. They will fall into one of five categories:

The walking suit with the longer jacket, sometimes over a complete dress, sometimes with a skirt and overblouse that is tied loosely at the waistline.

The cutaway jacket, sometimes with just a corner cut away, sometimes very deeply cut.

The air force jacket: brief, neat, trim.

The scarfed jacket: often fitted with its own scarf of fur or self-fabric.

The cabochon jacket, hip-length, which bows out slightly in back, often edged with fur and sometimes lined with it.

Hemline Freedom

Important in both suits and dresses is the new freedom of the hemline. One way to free it is through pleats. Sometimes the pleats are in clusters, sometimes in fan pleats, sometimes in panels, and there is a new return to the accordion pleat.

Important for late day is the bare look. That has had plenty of attention in picture magazines. In Couture Group collections it's not that bare. There are deeply slashed dresses. There is a return of the strapless evening dress—long, of course,—and the shoestring strap. And there are cowl necklines, very feminine and often dipping deep in back.

In sharp contrast, but equally effective, is the covered-up look for evening with long, tight sleeves, often combined with low-cut backs.

Now might be a good time to clear up this publicized "discotheque" look that all the designers seem to have adapted in one way or another. Frankly, it looks like a flapper's shimmy, if your memory goes back that far, short and worn with black lace stockings which makes it look even flappier.

For the benefit of you post-flapper fashion fans, the discotheque look is a very new after-five-not-formal fashion which started at the New Jimmie's in Paris where all-that-jazz is taped, with an occasional live musician wedged in between dancers doing the Scribblesman, the Frug, the Strike and other versions of the Twist which have evolved.

It is short, black and slithery, in wool, silk crepe or lace, with hemlines marked by fluffy feathers, puffs, bias flounces or godets.

Another big revival is pants. (Don't even call them trousers). There are slim, tailored pants in wool for travel in weekend suits that also come with extra skirts. There are silk pants for at-home, slim in the oriental or full culottes in the occidental style.

HARD to Resist

You may not have to discard last winter's wardrobe, or even the winter before last's—but it's going to be mighty hard to resist the best of the new season's.

Fashions come to life in many ways. As your favorite clerk is always telling you: "This dress doesn't look like anything on the hanger, but it's darling on." "Darling" isn't quite the word to describe this season's fashions, but the fact that they are shown on models brings out an important fashion note that many women forget: how clothes look in motion.

Staging, too, lends importance to fashions and the International Silk Assn. dinner at the Pierre was dramatic, not only in the setting and the silks which are so precious that they could be framed for wall hangings, but also in the Japanese head-dresses worn by the models, formed of extra pieces of hair skewered on with chopsticks, and very effective after the little-headed look of their own styles, a look not yet familiar to Main St.

Another happy note is the fact that the silk show included dresses made from patterns everybody knows: Simplicity, Vogue, McCall's. That's happy, because it proves that couture fashions are within the reach of any woman who can sew at home, with the good judgement to select some fabulous fabric, a high-fashion pattern, and the skill to make it fit.

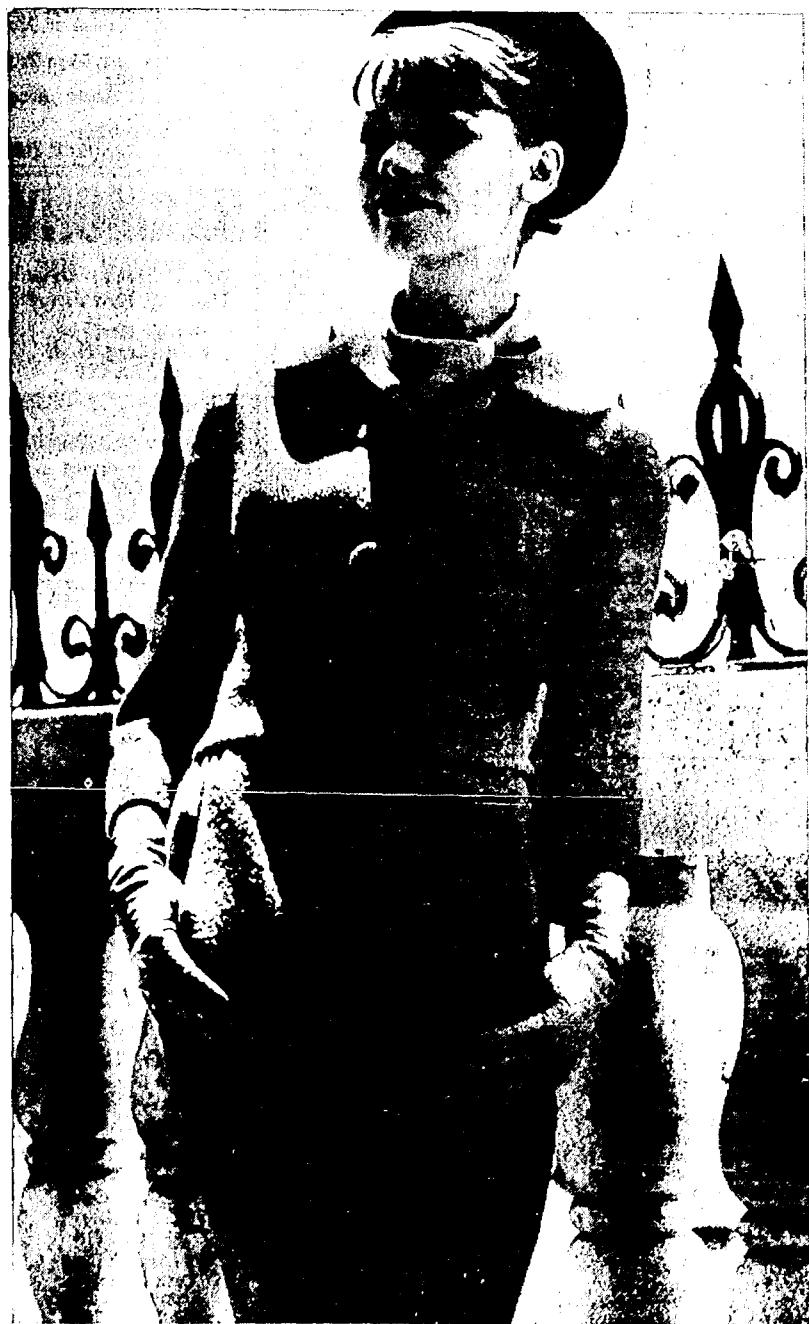

Speaking of homes, one of the side-ribs editors were taking was to the Jessup at home on Ninth Ave., sponsored by Switzerland with Swiss misses and masters in costumes complete with accordions and Swiss cheeses and chocolates, held in a basement apartment.

Penthouses are common fare for visiting press parties but cellar apartments are something new. This one was most effective. A back window wall led to a terraced back yard on three levels, the highest at street level with the tall buildings shut out by a lashed pole fence. There were real plants mixed in with artificial mimosa, and there were tables and chairs set at different levels.

And real air. This is something fashion editors could well forget what it smells like, in the airconditioned atmosphere which makes the Fall and Winter wools and furs seem not only seasonal but also necessary. Spare some pity for fashion editors coming to their first New York press week with their best summer wardrobe of sleeveless dresses, and no sweaters. They either turn blue with cold or borrow the breakfast napkins to cuddle up in.

TAPER — In Trousers legs, teamed with top in wool makes the Trousers suit which from New York Couture Group is considered the way to travel in Fall 1964.

BATTLE WINTER in this "battle jacket" suit from the Paul Parnes collection of the New York Couture Group. Here it is interpreted in Pompeii rose sheer wool. The jacket cuffs the waistline and the easy-fit sheath skirt features intriguing side seams. A softly tied pink satin bow fills the neck-line.

SIDE CLOSING and a notched-in slender line marks the importance of Anthony Blotta's wool coat created in imported light beige wool. The collar, a stiffened ring, stands around the neck and frames the wearer. Detailing is marked at the closing and the set-in sleeves have the eased, natural look.

Lema Trails Irishman, Frenchman By Two

Winds Hamper Yanks In Britain

By JOHN FAIRLOW
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Champagne Tony Lema battled North Sea gales so strong they almost blew him Jack Nicklaus down and compiled a sound 73, one over par, Wednesday to lead the eight-man American contingent after the first round of the British Open Golf Championship.

Lema's round, capped by a 45-foot birdie putt on the last hole, left him two strokes off the pace set by Christy O'Connor of Ireland and Jean Garraide of France, who lead 71s.

They were the only men in the field to break par, while Australia's Bruce Devlin and England's Harry Weetman matched par with 72s.

Nicklaus, fresh from the $24,000 victory in the Whitehouse at Philadelphia last Sunday, soared to a 76, although he knocked in a 30-foot birdie putt at the 18th.

It was a disappointing start for the 24-year-old Ohio Golden Bear, who has won every major title except this one. And it could have been worse if Nicklaus had not hit a wedge out of a bunker on No. 17 stiff to the hole.

Phil Rodgers, beaten by New Zealand left-hander Bob Charles in a playoff here last year, scratched out a 74.

Ford Al 75

Doug Ford, former Masters and PGA winner, had 75.

Bill Johnston of Phoenix shot a 77, and Johnny Balla, the 50-year-old veteran who was runner-up here in 1939 and 1946, had 78. So did Doug Sanders, a tour regular.

Deane Beman, former British Amateur champion and current U.S. Amateur King from Bethesda, Md., had the worst time of all and blew to an 82.

Former Open champions Gary Player of South Africa and Kel Nagle of Australia also found the wind too much. Nagle had 77, Player 78.

Low scores in the first round of the 72-hole British Open Golf Championship:

Jean Garraide, France 37-34-71

Christy O'Connor, Ireland 37-34-71

Harry Weetman, England 38-34-72

Bruce Devlin, Australia 35-37-72

Tony Lema, San Leandro, Calif. 37-36-73

Hugh Boyle, England 36-37-73

B. J. Hunt, England 36-37-73

Max Faulkner, England 36-37-73

Phil Rodgers, La Jolla, Calif. 36-37-73

Christy Greene, Ireland 40-34-74

Stewart Davis, South Africa 40-34-74

George Will, Scotland 38-36-74

before the largest crowd of the season at Wrigley Field—30,156.

The split kept the second-place Giants 1½ games back of the National League leading Philadelphia Phillies, whose game with St. Louis was rained out.

Overcast skies hastened dusk in lightless Wrigley Field, but not before the Giants struck for five runs and six hits in the first two innings against Ernie Broglio. Ron Herbel, now 7-4, got the victory. Broglio is 3-9.

Mays' 24th Gives Split With Cubs

CHICAGO (AP)—Willie Mays slammed a three-run homer Wednesday as the San Francisco Giants ended their longest losing streak of the season at four games by beating the Chicago Cubs 7-2 in the second game of a doubleheader called after seven innings because of darkness.

The Cubs won the opener 2-0 on Bob Buhl's four-hit pitching.

Women's Links Open Starts Today

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The 12th annual United States Women's Open Golf Championships gets under way Thursday with an all-star field led by defending titleholder Mary Mills of Gulf Hills, Miss.

Fifty-eight contestants, divided about evenly between professionals and amateurs, are scheduled to tee off in the 72-hole medal play event which winds up with 36 holes Saturday.

Heavily favored to topple Miss Mills is San Diego's Mickey Wright. She calls Dallas home, but Mickey grew up here, has played the tournament course at the San Diego Country Club innumerable times and has won the national open three times in its 11 years' existence.

The course has women's par of 36-37-73. It is a rolling, well-trapped course, generously dotted with eucalyptus trees and measures 6,470 yards.

Leeman Talks At Wrestling Clinic Today

EAST STROUDSBURG—Gerry Leeman, coach of the Eastern wrestling team, will speak today at the 5-day wrestling clinic being held at East Stroudsburg State College.

The clinic, directed by ESSC coach Clyde (Red) Whitman, is in its fourth day today. Yesterday, Ed Perry, Navy coach, spoke to the 85 wrestling students from four states who are attending.

Horse Farms Movie Sites

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Thoroughbred horse farms in the Blue Grass and the Lexington Trotting Track have served as the principal sites for numerous movies.

Among them are "The Tattooed Police Horse," "Gloria," "Home In Indiana," "April Love" and "Kentucky."

A movie called "Pride of the Blue Grass" was filmed principally at Tanforan Race Track near San Francisco.

Atlantic Grid Teams To Drill

NEW YORK (AP)—The 14 members of the Atlantic Coast Football League all are expected to be in training by the weekend for the opening of the season, just a month away.

Most of the teams already are practicing, with Boston and Springfield expected to start within the next few days.

The exhibition campaign opens July 26 with Providence at Portland. The same two clubs kick off the regular season Aug. 8 at Providence. The rest of the league follows suit the following week.

Eastburg L. L. Names All-Stars

EAST STROUDSBURG—The East Stroudsburg Little League has released its All-Star game roster. The game will be played on the East Stroudsburg Little League Field Wednesday, July 22, starting at 6 p. m.

The manager will be Ben Smith. The coach, Ray Steele. Umps are Joe Carmella and Sam Kupp.

The roster:

Name	Team
Richard Spinner	Countermans
Horst Hoppe	Countermans
Garry Huffman	Countermans
Dan Fritz	Methodists
Harold Metzgar	Methodists
Joe Viechnicki	Methodists
Steve Miller	Methodists

Jim Hines	Eastburg Bank
Mike Van Why	Eastern Poconos
John Petrizzo	Eastern Poconos
George Shuck	Eastern Poconos
George Miller	R. C. Cramer
Dave Olenick	Countermans
Steve Barnes	Eastburg Bank

Eagles Still Housecleaning, Swap Pair For Steelers Duo

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia Eagles Coach Joe Kuharich continued his "operation house cleaning" Wednesday with a trade that sent veteran fullback Clarence Peaks and linebacker Bob Harrison to the Pittsburgh Steelers for flanker back Bill (Red) Mack and defensive halfback Glenn Glass.

This was the sixth major deal by Kuharich since he took over as head coach last March. He has traded off nine players and acquired 13 in a large scale effort to get the team out of the National Football League's Eastern Division cellar.

Pro Football: Rich, Rough, Riotous

LOS ANGELES — Say, for instance, that you are selling new records in Shea Stadium, a promising business, and someone puts a million dollars in your pants on your way to work.

Now you have a rough idea of what has happened to the membership of the National Football League, which is preparing this week to open its training camps about the country.

The league is consummating the dream of every promoter, namely, to put on a show with no conceivable way of losing. Television has assured each team $1 million a year for the next two years, which should more than cover the cost of bridgework.

Now is the new TV contract the only outside source by which football will be collected, George Halas, football's foremost authority on largesse, has made an arrangement whereby the home games of his Chicago Bears will be shown in local theaters at popular prices. Popular with George, that is, not necessarily the viewers.

Halas reasons, logically, that there is no reason to keep his games out of Chicago theaters, considering that no seats remain in Wrigley Field, where the show originates.

Other owners doing spirited business at the gate will be studying George's program closely, with the idea of dabbling in this media at a later date.

Theaters have found they can live with pay TV, especially when they're in on it.

Rams Open Thursday

In Orange, Calif., which is just about a placekick from that major league metropolis, Anaheim, the Los Angeles Rams will start their camp on Thursday. The Rams are first in the league to open largely on the ground that they have more to do.

That's assuming, of course, they are interested in winning more than five games, which, together with nine losses, was their record last year.

Before eyebrows are arched, let it be known that this was their best season since 1958, as just a fragment of what has gone on out here, the Rams showed a record of 1-12-1 in 1962.

Pleasantly surprised by five wins last year, President Dan Reeves returned from the final game in Baltimore in a buoyant mood. Suddenly, he leaped from his seat on the plane, awakened dozing newsmen and inquired:

"Isn't anyone going to ask me whether Harland Svare is coming back next year as coach?"

A dutiful, straight man responded, "Okay, is Harland Svare coming back as coach next year?"

The reply would have been more consistent with Ram policy if Reeves had said, "No, the second-so is fired!" But, instead, he answered that Harland not only was rehired, but for a year.

Ordinarily, Ram coaches work day-to-day, except in those cases where they are taken on an hourly basis.

Fired At Dinner

Less than conventional in matters of personnel, the Rams fired

Hampton Pool one night between the herring and the soup courses at a Danish restaurant. As for Svare, he may be the only coach ever rehired at $1,000 fee.

Familiar with his problem, Harland is determined to get the Rams into shape fast. He plans to do this immediately by asking everyone in camp to run a mile a day.

In an Olympic year, this is only appropriate, though many on the team will be willing to debate the point with their coach. Each time they hit the third lap or so, they'll wish that Reeves had pushed Svare out of the plane, instead of renewing his contract.

It is, in truth, a critical year for the Rams. They will be appearing in a new surrounding in the Coliseum, a cozy arrangement embracing 65,000 seats, many with theater-type chairs.

By reducing the size of the park and bringing the game closer to the stands, the Rams are hoping to create the kind of desire for the product now felt in places like New York, Baltimore, Detroit and Chicago.

10-Year Contract

In persuading the Coliseum to squander $1 million on this improvement, the Rams had to agree to a 10-year contract, but won a point in another area. The Coliseum cannot allow another pro football team to inhabit the stadium during the occupancy of the Rams.

In other words, if the American Football League is inspired to move back to this neighborhood, it must do business in Dodger Stadium, or in Anaheim, provided that community, talking about $20 million stadiums, comes up with the bread.

Having once averaged a record $3,000 for home attendance, the Rams are now down to 40,000. But, of course, even if the wind is blowing and the snow is snowing, they've got their million bucks to keep them warm.

WARMING UP — Tony Lema sends a divot flying while playing the fourth hole in practice round at St. Andrews, Scotland. He is one of the favorites to win the British Open Golf Championship which got underway at St. Andrews yesterday. (AP Wirephoto)

Dodgers' Alston Denies Complacency

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever the reason for the Los Angeles Dodgers' current perilous position in the National League pennant race, Manager Walter Alston is sure it is not complacency.

"Anyone who suggests there is a morale problem on our club is just trying to stir up something," said Alston. "And the idea of our guys not hustling is preposterous."

"Sure, the boys are not hitting as we expected them to, but it is not because they are not trying. I never saw a player yet who wasn't always trying to get a base hit."

"And I'd like to see anybody tell me to my face that the club is not giving me 100 per cent. To be truthful, I was kind of on the lookout in the spring for a little complacency after taking four straight from the Yankees in the World Series. But I can honestly say I saw no sign of it. I'm not denying we've been terrible but I can't blame it on complacency."

The All-Star break — traditional mid-season mark — finds the defending champions in the middle of the bunch, closer to ninth place than they were to first. After 77 games, they still are under .500, 11 games behind the league leading Philadelphia Phillies in the important loss column.

"We're not hitting worth a darn," said Alston. "Whatever hits we do get are singles. We are not even putting those together and not getting them in the clutch."

Venturi Tops Round Robin Golf Field

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—With Jack Nicklaus in the British Open and Arnold Palmer pointing to next week's PGA National Open champion Ken Venturi is the big name in the Wykagyl Round Robin Golf Tournament, starting Thursday.

This is the Adding Machine Open, an unusual event that is about two-thirds arithmetic and one-third golf.

In a revival of the charity affair which highlighted the professional tour a few years ago, 16 leading players will compete in a 90-hole, four-day competition for $25,000 in prize money.

Met Farm Clubs Swap 10 Players

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP)—Two New York Mets farm clubs, Auburn of the New York-Pennsylvania League and Williamsport of the Eastern League, were involved Tuesday in a 10-player trade.

The Eastern League is a Class AA loop and the NYP is Class A. Sent from Auburn to Williamsport were outfielders Bruce Fitzpatrick and Jeff Brown, pitcher Jim Hardin, catcher Cliff McWilliams and third baseman Bob Serrano.

In turn, pitchers Dick Gardner and Steve Dillon, catcher Floyd Floodin, outfielder Bernie Smith and first baseman-outfielder Roger Watter, were dispatched to Auburn.

Auburn is battling for the NYP pennant, while Williamsport is stuck in the Eastern League cellar.

Cy Barrett Says

After Prison Role

By Cyrus Barrett, Jr.

DEAR CY: One year ago, I was sentenced to two years in federal prison for illegal sale of drugs. There was a great deal of publicity during my trial. I am now contemplating re-entering the retail drug business again in a new section of town and running my new store as it should be.

I would obey the legal and ethical tenets of the profession and have promised myself to do this faithfully. There are new medical-dental clinics opening all over — and an apothecary in or near these clinics, under normal circumstances, is very successful. The salesman who would call on me and I can be positive that all of the doctors nearby (as well as my competitors) would have this recent disgrace brought to their attention immediately. Do you think I can overcome this or would it be better to move to another city or state? A retail drugist must have the neighboring doctor's co-operation and trust as well as that of his customers. Financially and personally, I must make a success of this store and I want to give it every chance a young business needs.

It is impossible for me to enclose a stamped envelope as we are not permitted stamps in this prison. They would be used as currency here, if allowed.

X.D.

DEAR N.D.:

Perferring around, I find you are a two-time loser and pleaded guilty to selling counterfeit drugs. And, being in a federal prison, paying your rent is my pleasure. You don't need a new start in drug retailing, but a new beginning in an absolutely different career. Remove yourself, when released, from past associations and temptations to which you know you are addicted. You may never get rich, but there should be some satisfaction in dealing with bona fide dollars. This cancelled stamp is on me.

DEAR CY:

When not delivering packages for a gift shop, I am an artist. I paint life to look like life and art shows show my work. They want smears and blobs of meaningless colors on canvas. My work was rejected at an art show where 65 paintings were selected for the show out of 48 submitted. (You know the kind that were accepted.) When I paint a house it looks like a house. Not like a Purple People Eater. How can I get the public to see and buy my art?

DEAR N.:

How about a one-man-show?

in the gift shop, complete with price tags and sales commissions for the proprietor? Include a few horses that could have been painted by Purple People Eaters. Copying success is often the prescription for success.

DEAR CY:

You made a gross omission in not mentioning the mental benefits of working late in life. Besides keeping my body in good shape, work keeps my mind active and happy.

DEAR CY:

Put Cy to work on your Personal Business Questions! Write Cy Barrett, c/o this newspaper, but please include a stamped, self-addressed return envelope.

Mr. Grimes

Work gives us identity, the needed niche in society. It answers the questions, "Who am I?" "What am I doing here?" Work also produces financial rewards and freedom from reliance on other human beings or society. Work keeps one a part of what is going on in the world. All of which can keep the mind pickled in happiness. O.K.?

WISHING WELL

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a fortune every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your message. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 4 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 4, add 4. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Goldwater Lead Lengthens In Congressional Preference

By Congressional Quarterly
WASHINGTON (CQ) — Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) has lengthened his lead among Republican Members of the Senate and House to 60 per cent, according to the latest Congressional Quarterly survey.

The poll suggested that Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton's entry into the Republican Presidential race had done little to chip away at Goldwater's strength among his Congressional colleagues.

In an early June poll, just before Goldwater's victory in the crucial California Presidential primary but before Scranton's entry into the race, 51.5 per cent of the Republican Congressmen picked Goldwater as their party's "strongest possible" nominee in the fall elections.

The late June poll, in contrast, showed Goldwater's percentage up to 60.2 per cent.

	June	June
	Goldwater	Scranton
Goldwater	71	60.2
Scranton	39	33.1
Nixon	4	3.4
Rockefeller	0	—
Scattered	4	—

Vice Presidential

Scranton, who had enjoyed a substantial plurality in the early June poll for Vice President, dropped to second place just behind Republican National Chairman William E. Miller (N.Y.). Gov. Mark Hatfield (Ore.), who will be keynote and temporary chairman of the Republican National Convention, and Sen. Thurston Morton (R-Ky.), who will be permanent chairman of the convention, were runners-up in both polls.

	June	June
	Miller	Scranton
Miller	28	23.7
Scranton	27	22.9
Hatfield	14	11.9
Morton	12	10.2

In the late June poll, four votes for Vice President were also cast for Goldwater, Nixon and Rep. Gerald R. Ford, Jr. (Mich.). Three votes were cast for Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (Calif.) and two each for Lodge, Sen. Everett McKinley Dickson (Ill.) and Sen. John J. Williams (Del.).

Of the 211 Republican Senators and Representatives, 118 participated in the latest Congressional Quarterly poll. A total of 99 had participated in the earlier poll.

Contrast to Gallup

The Presidential selections of the Congressmen were in sharp contrast to the late June figures, based on polling of a national cross-section of Republican voters, released by the Gallup Poll.

Those figures showed that rank and file Republican voters picked Scranton over Goldwater, 55 to 34 per cent with 11 per cent undecided. Independents were reported to favor Scranton over Goldwater by a 62 to 24 per cent margin with 14 per cent undecided.

A wide divergence between Congressional opinion and public opinion is not unique, however. In 1952, for instance, polls of Republican Congressmen showed them heavily in favor of Sen. Robert A. Taft (Ohio) for the GOP Presidential nomination.

Antlerless Deer Licenses Upped In Monroe To 5,650

STROUDSBURG — If you miss getting a buck this season, don't despair. This year Monroe County will have 2,550 more antlerless deer permits than last year. The county's 1964 quota is 5,650.

Statewide, the allocation of 274,800 licenses on a county basis for the 1964 season is the largest number since 1959.

The increased allocation is designed to cut down and stabilize the number of deer. Due to bad weather in parts of the state the last several years there has been a poor harvest. Consequently, the overall herd has increased.

Dec. 14-15

The two-day statewide antlerless season is set for Dec. 14 and 15. As in the past, all antlerless deer licenses will be issued by County Treasurers, as provided by the Game Law. Antlerless licenses will probably go on sale early in October.

There are no specific guidelines or provisions in the Game Law directing sale of these licenses, except that County Treasurers shall sell them and that an antlerless license may not be sold to a nonresident of the Commonwealth in advance.

Man Sues For Bus Stop Injuries

STROUDSBURG — A Stroudsburg man is seeking in excess of $10,000 from three defendant companies for injuries he allegedly sustained in a 1963 New Jersey bus accident.

Donald E. Whitaker of 1737 Honeysuckle Lane, started the action yesterday in Monroe County Court against Shawnee Press of Delaware Water Gap and Keystone Tours and Delaware Valley Transportation, both of Stroudsburg.

The suit, filed by Atty. Russell L. Mervine of Stroudsburg, claims Whitaker was injured when a Delaware Valley bus stopped suddenly and threw him to the floor. The bus was traveling on Rt. 69, when Whitaker was injured.

The three companies were named in the suit because the Shawnee firm leased the bus from Delaware Valley through arrangements made by Keystone Tours.

It is alleged Whitaker suffered serious and permanent back injuries. The suit claims he paid a total of $478 in doctor bills as a result of the injuries.

The suit states the defendants are responsible because the bus driver was traveling too fast to observe a defect in the road and had to stop suddenly to avoid it.

It further claims the bus was not equipped with seat belts.

of 30 days prior to the season. It has been suggested by the Game Commission and some County Treasurers that specific guide lines in the Game Law for sale of the licenses be considered by the Legislature in 1965.

The quota of antlerless deer licenses for each county, location of each county seat, and the number to be issued for 1964, is as follows:

9 Area Borough Officials Attended State Conference

STROUDSBURG — Nine area borough officials were among 1,500 throughout Pennsylvania who attended the 53rd annual Borough Officials Conference in the Hilton Hotel Pittsburgh last week.

Attending the three-day officials conference from East Stroudsburg were: William Schmittman, president of the borough council; Pearley Hunt, councilman; and Kenneth Wiley, council vice president.

Representing the Borough of Stroudsburg were: Robert L. Weichel, council president; John T. Hauser, Howard (Bud) Altmore Jr., and Stephen Sackley, all councilman; Harold Snyder, borough manager; and George T. Robinson, solicitor.

Sen. Stanley Stroup of Bedford, chairman of the Local Government Commission, spoke at the opening sessions. His topic: "Home Rule — What Is It?" the talk corresponded with the conference theme.

Maurice K. Goddard, Secretary of Forests and Waters, also spoke. He outlined local government's role in the recent Project 70 legislation.

Convention delegates were welcomed to Pittsburgh and Allegheny County by Mayor Joseph W. Barr and John E. McGrady, county commissioner.

Miss Genevieve Blatt, Secretary of Internal Affairs, also spoke. She stressed constitutional revision and local government. Sharing the program with Miss Blatt was Colonel E. Wilson Purdy, commissioner, Pennsylvania State Police. He spoke about state and local police relations.

In addition to the featured speakers, the conference included meetings and problem-solving sessions on new sources of revenue; Borough Code revision; street maintenance and the fiscal calendar.

Also, a "Consultant's Clinic," featuring more than 30 experts on borough government were available.
